Ike Seeks Agreement on Rules for Summit Talks

Compromise Bill on Haberman Head Of State's New AFL and CIO

Senate Expected to Forward Measure to Eisenhower

Washington — The House swiftly passed and sent to the senate today a compromise defense reorganization bill containing most of the provisions requested by President Eisenhower.

Prompt senate passage was expected to send the measure to the president.

The house acted by voice, vote and without opposition after terse debate. Only about 50 members were on hand at the time.

Chairman Carl Vinson (D-Ga.) of the armed services committee told the house that senate and house conferees who worked out the compromise bill were in unanimous agreement.

Ike Satisfied Rep. Leslie Arends (R-Ind.), senior minority member of the committee, said the bill was "in complete accord with the wishes of those who sponsored the legislation originally."

The bill, approved yesterday by senate-house conferees, embodies much but not all Eisenhower sought in the way of authority to reorganize the Pentagon.

Eisenhower, who early this year asked broad powers to streamline command of the nation's fighting forces and to tighten the complex organization of the military services, said he was satisfied.

In a statement issued shortly after the conferees approved the bill, Eisenhower said:

"Except in relatively minor respects, the bill adequately meets every recommendation I submitted to the congress on this subject. It is my conviction that the armed services committees of both houses have done a praiseworthy job and that the result for America will be a more efficient and

Western Opinion Appears To be That Monday Is Too Early for Opening Session

Washington — President Eisenhower began writing a new message to Premier Khrushchev today insisting that the ground rules be spelled out clearly in advance of a United Nations summit conference. U. S. officials said it seems certain that the meeting will be held, but here and in other western capitals the view was that the opening day suggested by Khrushchev, next Monday, is much too soon.

Diplomats estimated it would take two or three weeks of negotiations to determine exactly what countries should be included and what procedures should govern discussions.

Nothing quite like the proposed conference has ever been held at the U. N. Security council in New York. Important precedents will be set.

Recognition of this was reflected in a stand by senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland of California that the free nations should not accept any Khrushchev conditions which weakened the U. N.

Knowland told a news conference he considered a fundamental issue to be whether the Soviet government, or any other country, "can in effect unilaterally change the procedures of the U. N. by fiat of its own." If this is permitted, he said, it will "in effect have undermined and ultimately jeopardized the future existence of the organization."

Knowland's views are among a considerable flow of congressional opinion that the White House in receiving informally through liaison officers.

Humphrey's Proposal An idea put forward by Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) is that Prime Minister Ben Gurion of Israel and representatives of the Arab states should be included in any summit conference on the Middle East.

"This conference offers the first opportunity we've had to do something constructive to work out a solution for the Arab-Israeli dispute which is the seed bed for problems in the Middle East," Humphrey said.

Humphrey had just come from a briefing given a group of senators by William Macomber, assistant secretary of state.

"Ben Gurion of Israel should by all means be invited to the conference," Humphrey asserted. "If Israel and the Arab states are included we would have an opportunity of clarifying relationships."

"The relations between Israel and the Arab states are at the root of the problem, rather

Proposed Date Held Too Early

Britain Welcomes Khrushchev Offer But Favors Delay

London — Britain welcomed officially today Premier Nikita Khrushchev's offer to attend a summit level session of the United Nations Security council, but it said the premier's proposal to begin the meeting Monday in New York seems unrealistic.

Britain was the first of the western Big Three to react to Khrushchev's offer to make a flying visit to the United States to tackle the Middle East crisis.

Paris still withheld official comment.

A foreign office spokesman announced Britain's reaction. He did not say how soon Britain thought the meeting could be arranged.

Charge Denied An official statement read by the foreign office spokesman at a daily news conference said the British "are quite prepared to meet as soon as a special meeting of the security council can be conveniently arranged."

The British statement insisted there is no truth in Khrushchev's charge that the peace of the Middle East is in peril as a result of American and British intervention.

The text of the foreign office statement: "Her majesty's government are glad that Mr. Khrushchev appears to have accepted our suggestion for a special meeting of the security council."

"We are considering the details and the new points raised in his reply."

"The prime minister has already refuted Soviet allegations that there exists a threat to the peace in the Middle East."

"The proposed date seems to us unrealistic although we are quite prepared to meet as soon as a special meeting of the security council can be conveniently arranged."

Charles Schultz of Milwaukee, head of the former CIO unit, was named vice president, and George Hall, also of Milwaukee, was elected secretary-treasurer after the groups completed approval of the merger plans in independent conventions.

Haberman was president of the AFL group while Hall was secretary-treasurer. They were elected to positions in the new organization by delegates to the AFL meeting, according to terms of the merger agreement. The pact left for filling

Senate Votes to Set Up Space Committee

Washington — The senate voted today to set up a 15-member committee on aeronautical and space sciences.

The committee will have jurisdiction over activities of the new national aeronautics and space administration just created by congress.

It will deal with all outer space developments except those primarily associated with military weapons.

Creation of the group gives the senate 16 standing committees. The house is establishing a similar committee.

McElroy Praises U. S. Preparedness

Can Move Quickly Wherever Needed, He Tells Senators

Washington — Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy told senators today that two recent movements of U. S. troops "shows that our forces are ready and that they can move rapidly to those parts of the world where they are needed."

McElroy cited the landing of battle-ready U. S. forces in Lebanon during the Middle East crisis and the movement of marines and paratroopers into the Caribbean area during demonstrations against Vice President Nixon in Latin America.

The Pentagon chief cited these instances to a watchdog senate defense group headed by Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Texas) as he appeared to answer questions about readiness of defense.

Speed Tested "We have tested the speed of our forces' reaction to situations of tension," McElroy said as he ticked off a long list of Pentagon programs and accomplishments this year.

Shortly after Soviet Russia launched its first Sputnik satellite last October, Johnson's defense preparedness subcommittee launched an exhaustive inquiry into U. S. defense and scientific programs.

The bipartisan group made public 17 specific recommendations for beefing up U. S. efforts and Johnson asked McElroy for a report on them today.

"We all recognize that we live in a world where we must constantly look to our defenses," Johnson told McElroy and the crowded hearing. "The price of freedom is preparedness and national strength."

Listing military funds and bills approved or near final passage by this session of congress, Johnson invited McElroy to list any other things he needed from congress.

McElroy said a defense reorganization bill, lacking only final expected approval, "embraces most of the improvements recommended by the president."

Liner Reports Adm. Quiggle as Missing at Sea

San Francisco — The disappearance of Rear Adm. L. C. Quiggle from the President Cleveland at sea was reported today.

Quiggle, 52, was last seen aboard the liner at midnight Tuesday while en route from Honolulu to San Francisco.

He had been deputy chief of staff on the joint staff of commander of U. S. forces in Japan. He was going to San Diego, Calif., to become commander of Amphibious Group 1, Pacific fleet.

Mrs. Quiggle reported her husband's disappearance. A radiogram to American Presidential lines in San Francisco said a thorough search of the President Cleveland was made. No clues were found.

Quiggle was born in Grand Island, Neb. He was graduated from Annapolis in 1930.

In World War II he served aboard the battleship Iowa in both the Atlantic and Pacific.

2 Tots Die in Unused Icebox

Brother and Sister Perish in Tragedy Near Edgerton

Edgerton — A game ended in tragedy Wednesday night when two rural Edgerton children were found dead in an abandoned icebox near their home.

They were David, 4, and Rhonda Scholl, 5, children of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Scholl, route 3.

Mrs. Scholl said she last saw the youngsters in the yard of their home about 7:30 p.m.

Jefferson and Dane county authorities aided by a hundred volunteers, directed a search after the father reported the children missing.

The mother found the bodies in the icebox in an out building. The girl was huddled in the upper compartment of the icebox and the boy, with a dead kitten in his arms, was in the lower compartment.

Both children apparently had been dead from suffocation for several hours. They apparently were playing near the icebox and locked themselves in.

2 More Deaths Dallas — Two more Dallas children died yesterday from being trapped in a stifling clothes closet, bringing the total deaths to four.

The children were trapped when the handle fell off the door of the closet in which they were playing.

When the mother, Mrs. Cardie McDade, a Negro, returned home Tuesday she found the four children trapped in the closet.

Shoots Husband After Son Drowns

Gastonia, N.C. — A distraught Negro mother shot and killed her husband near here early today climaxing a sustained argument over the drowning of their son hours earlier.

Mrs. Beaula Goode, 38, was lodged in jail here without privilege of bond charged with murder in the shooting of her husband, Giles, also 38.

Meanwhile, her son, Maurice, 15, who drowned as he lay sleeping yesterday morning, was to be buried this afternoon.

As the argument over their son's death grew more heated, police quoted Mrs. Goode as saying her husband threatened her. "There'll be more than one body in the house," she quoted him.

Police said Goode was seated in bed, still arguing, when Mrs. Goode seized a single barrel .16 gauge shotgun and fired at him.

Air Force Continues Search for Rocket Nose Cone Carrying Mouse

Cape Canaveral, Fla. —

The air force announced today that initial attempts to locate a Thor-Able rocket nose cone and its tiny mouse rider have been stymied, but the search is still on.

More than a dozen specially equipped telemetry ships and planes pressed their hunt for the small nose cone near Ascension island, 1,000 miles off the African coast.

Good Performance The report on search progress came some 15 hours after the mouse named Wikkie was blasted aloft in an air-conditioned chamber inside the nose cone of a mighty Thor-Able rocket.

The mouse could tell man a lot about the perils of travel in outer space.

The rocket, said the air force, performed satisfactorily. That meant that it climbed 600 miles above the earth, then angled over into a horizontal flight that reached 6,000 miles to the vicinity of Ascension island.

If the rocket's nose cone were found after its plunge from space it could solve many secrets.

Military men wanted to know if the cone could withstand the great friction heat encountered in its dive back into the earth's atmosphere. If so, it could be depended upon to shield a hydrogen bomb in intercontinental flight in case of war.

Space scientists who hope some day to send men to the moon and beyond were especially interested in how Wikkie fared in the 12,000 m. p. h. journey to space and back.

If Wikkie survived, it would be the first known time that a living animal had gone into space and returned alive.

This was the third test of a Thor-Able rocket, a two-stage vehicle which represents a union of air force and navy weapons. The first stage is the air force Thor. On top of that is the second stage of the navy's Vanguard Satellite launcher.

The first Thor-Able test failed April 23 when communication with the rocket was lost soon after the blastoff. Not until after this flight was it learned that a mouse was aboard.

Earlier Test On July 9, the second Thor-Able became the first U. S. ballistic missile to travel the 6,000-mile intercontinental range. Attempts to recover its nose cone and a mouse rider named Laska were unsuccessful.

Scientists were excited however, by news that Laska lived for at least 32 minutes after the blastoff.

This information, relayed back by telemetry equipment strapped to the little animal's body, indicated that Laska survived the tremendous lunge upward, the 12,000 m. p. h. flight through space, and the dive back to earth.

Captured After Wounding 2 Men

Baltimore — A policeman and a bank customer were shot by a gunman today when he tried to hold up a bank at a busy downtown intersection.

The gunman, not immediately identified, was quickly captured near the Fidelity Baltimore National bank at Baltimore and Light streets. He got no money in the attempted robbery.

The wounded policeman, identified as Donald Hundertmark, was taken to a hospital for X-ray examination. He was reportedly shot in the abdomen, knee and upper part of one leg.

The wounded bank customer was a 37-year-old Baltimore seaman, James Cousins. He was reported shot in the stomach as the robber blazed away with his gun inside the bank before fleeing.

Greek Cypriots Strike To Protest Arrests

Nicosia — Greek Cypriots staged an island wide general strike today to protest mass arrests by the British aimed at heading off new violence. Most of Nicosia's stores and offices were shut down.

So far the British have announced the arrest of 1,450 Greek Cypriots and 44 Turk Cypriots, but the actual total is believed to be higher.

The 24-hour strike began today as soon as the British lifted a 2-day round-the-clock curfew that had brought the island to a standstill. Famagusta and Troodos remained under house curfew until tomorrow, however.

Confer on Increase In Social Security

Committee Reaches All but Final Agreement on 7 Per Cent Boost in Old Age and Disability Payments

Washington —A— An across-the-board increase in social security benefits moved rapidly toward election year action in congress today.

The house ways and means committee reached all but final agreement Wednesday on a flat 7 per cent boost in old age and disability payments, with a minimum $3 increase for all persons now receiving retirement checks.

For those workers not yet at retirement age, it would mean deduction of up to $25.50 more a year from their take home pay because of 1 per cent hike in the social security tax and enlargement of their taxable wage base from $4,200 to $4,800.

Informal Agreement
The committee reached informal agreement on the benefit hike and an accompanying tax increase after rejecting a proposal for a flat 10 per cent raise in benefits.

Some members, however, were hopeful the senate would change house figures to bring the increase near the 10 per cent level.

Chairman Wilbur D. Mills (D-Ark) said after yesterday's committee session that he hoped to have a completed bill ready by Monday for presentation to the house, where passage was regarded as certain.

Every two years since 1952 congress has increased social security benefits. With congressional elections this fall, 1958 was not expected to be an exception.

The benefit increase probably would take effect next year along with the accompanying hike in the tax rate.

Periodic Increases
The committee plan also calls for a speed-up in the schedule of periodic tax increases now provided under present law. It would move up from 1975 to 1969 the date when the maximum tax on workers and employers alike would fall due, and raise the final tax rate from 4 1/2 to 4 per cent.

Effective Jan. 1, 1959, the present $4,200 top pay base would be raised to $4,800. The tax on this wage base would be raised for workers and employers alike from its present level of 2 1/2 to 2 1/2 per cent each.

Under present law, the social security tax is due to go up Jan. 1, 1960, by one-half per cent each for workers and their employers, with similar increases each five years through 1975. The new bill would increase the rate each three years through 1969.

Senator Asks For Increase In Debt Limit

Stuart Symington Says Money Needed For Defense Costs

Washington —A— Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.) called today for another increase in the national debt limit to cover bigger defense spending.

Symington said that if this is not done, there will be "a repetition of last year's cash crisis in the Pentagon."

Meanwhile, it was learned that Secretary of the Treasury Anderson already has sounded out key members of the house ways and means and senate finance committees on a further boost in the debt ceiling.

Increase Needed
It was understood also that Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.), finance committee chairman, has agreed some increase probably will be needed, but has urged Anderson to hold the limit to $285 billion.

The secretary has indicated, however, that his request may be for $290 billion, $10 billion above the temporary ceiling of $280 billion approved by congress in February.

Under the bill passed in February, the permanent debt limit reverts to $275 billion on July 1, 1959.

Symington said that the administration's decision not to ask for an increase in the $275 billion ceiling last year caused a disastrous stretchout of defense spending last fall.

This not only lessened the nation's military strength but also helped bring on an economic recession, he said.

Congress Adjourns
Symington recommended that the administration act now to seek any further boost in the debt limit, but said he feared it may not do so.

"It may again wait until the congress adjourns," he said, "and then again try by referring to the debt ceiling to blame the congress for administration failure to carry out the defense programs."

Symington said that tight controls were being placed on defense contractors so that they must furnish monthly expenditure estimates.

This leads to "slow-down tactics — in effect, the opposite of efficient management," he said.

crowds at each game throughout the year. And the larger the crowd, the higher the players' salaries go."

Last Witness
Bell was the last football witness in the subcommittee's hearings on a house-passed bill to remove legal questions concerning noncommercial activities of pro baseball, football, basketball and hockey. Among these are the draft, contract options and territorial rights.

In addition to Bell, the subcommittee arranged to hear Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-NY) argue for qualified instead of outright antitrust law exemptions. Celler introduced a bill to excuse only practices found reasonably necessary, but the house turned it down in favor of the flat exemptions.

Bell said the National Football league would much prefer the broader measure but would accept either.

First Women in History Named to House of Lords

Win Special Life Peerages Along With Ten Men in Ancient, All-Male Chamber

London —A— For the first time in British history, four women were named today to the house of lords. They will hold special life peerages along with 10 men named by Queen Elizabeth II to put new life into the ancient, all-male chamber.

The Dowager Marchioness of Reading, chairman of the women's voluntary services for civil defense, which she founded in 1938.

The wives of the male peers will take the title of lady, and their children can use the prefix "the honorable." But husbands of the peeresses will get no title.

The new lifetime peers are Sir Ian Fraser, conservative member of parliament who was blinded in World war I; Sir Robert Boothby, conservative member of parliament and former parliamentary private secretary to Sir Winston Churchill; Daniel West and Victor Collins, labor members of parliament; Sir Charles Geddes, prominent trade unionist; Victor Noel-Paton, prominent layman in the Church of Scotland, which is not officially represented in the lords as the Church of England is; Edward Shackleton, former labor M. P. and son of the Antarctic explorer, Sir Ernest Shackleton; Dr. Stephen Taylor, former labor M. P.; Sir John Stopford, former vice-chancellor of Manchester university, and Sir Edward Twining, former governor of Tanganyika.

Support Grows For U. S. to Recognize Iraq

Foreign Relations Committee Ready To Study Situation

Washington —A— Sen. George D. Aiken (R-Vt) said today that strong support is building up within the senate foreign relations committee for early recognition of the new government in Iraq.

That, he said, is the principal reason behind the committee's decision to question Allen W. Dulles, director of the central intelligence agency, at a closed meeting this week, possibly today.

"If the facts are as I understand them to be, I think we should have no hesitancy about recognizing the new government," Aiken said in an interview.

He said other members of the committee with whom he has talked appear to share this view.

What He Knows
We want to ask Mr. Dulles what he knows about the new leaders, and the extent to which they are motivated by nationalism, rather than communism," Aiken said.

Some members have been critical of the CIA because it had no advance knowledge of the rebellion of army leaders which overthrew the pro-west Iraq government.

While Dulles may be questioned on how this happened, Aiken and others said this was not the purpose of the inquiry.

Keep Oil Flowing
The new Iraqi leaders have promised to keep oil flowing to the west, and to honor the commitments of the previous government with the United States and the west," Aiken said, adding:

"If this is true, we should continue to do business with them."

Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont); agreed that the United States can retain the friendship of the Iraqis.

Sen. John Sparkman (D-Ala) also said that when the situation in the Middle East stabilizes, the United States should give Iraqi recognition serious consideration.

East Texas Family of 5 Killed in Collision With Trailer-Truck

Gainesville, Texas —A— Five members of an east Texas family were killed Wednesday night when their car and a trailer-truck collided head on nine miles east of Gainesville on U. S. Highway 82.

The victims were identified as Ara Lona Day, 59-year-old Kirbyville mechanic, his wife, two daughters, about 8 and 14 years of age, and an 18-month-old son.

Reject Request for Turk Troops in Cyprus

London —A— Britain today rejected a request that Turkish troops be sent to Cyprus to help maintain law and order.

The request was made in a cable from the leader of the Turkish minority on the troubled Mediterranean island, Dr. Fazil Kutchuk. He sent copies to President Eisenhower and the general secretaries of the United Nations and NATO.

A foreign office spokesman told a news conference: "It is not the view of her majesty's government that the presence of Turkish troops would be of assistance in maintaining order in Cyprus."

105 Per Cent Increase In Living Costs Noted During Past 20 Years

Figures Mean Dollar Item in 1938 Now Must be Purchased for $2.05

Washington —A— Living costs have gone up 105 per cent in the 20 years since 1938, years that have included World war II and the Korean war.

That means that on the average, you must pay $2.05 today for something you could have bought for a dollar back in 1938, when Hitler was poised for his blitz of Europe.

A bit of analysis into what's happened seemed in order after the government released its latest living cost index yesterday. It showed a fractional rise from May to June, less than since one-tenth of 1 per cent. But it was a new living cost record, the 20th set in the past 22 months.

20-Year Story
Government experts provided figures on request showing the story of those 20 years, two decades, broken down into 5-year stanzas.

Their data show that from 1938 to 1943 consumer costs rose 23 per cent; from 1943 to 1948, 39 per cent; from 1948 to 1953, 11 per cent; and from 1953 to 1958, with President Eisenhower in the White House, 8 per cent.

But while the over-all living cost level soared 105 per cent in those 20 years some individual family budget items didn't go up that much and some advanced much more.

For example, where the cost of gas and electricity rose only a little over 11 per cent, coal and fuel oil jumped 129 per cent.

In the 1938-58 span the cost of a pair of baby shoes rose 171 per cent, a new car 125 per cent, rent 60 per cent and food — the main drain on the family budget — a whopping 151 per cent.

Hospital Costs
Hospital costs eclipsed almost everything else, rising nearly 300 per cent, doctor fees increased 84 per cent, men's haircuts 206 per cent, gasoline 69 per cent, household appliances 33 per cent, newspapers 124 per cent and movie admissions 120 per cent.

Oddly enough, costs of men's clothes in those two decades rose 110 per cent, but women's clothes climbed only 78 per cent.

Now turn to the past five years under Eisenhower, in which living costs have risen 8 per cent. This again is a composite of many different changes.

For example, in the 1953-58 period food has increased 7.8 per cent, housing 8.6, rents 11, gas-electricity 9.7, coal-fuel oil 6.3, and clothing 1.8 per cent. Hospital costs rose 33 per cent, hospitalization insurance the same, shoes 12.7, haircuts 23.1, movies 25 and newspapers 20.

But in the past five years there were substantial price declines, too. Appliances, probably due to price discounts, declined 15 per cent, including TV sets 6 per cent, radios 10 per cent, refrigerators 33 per cent and vacuum cleaners 23 per cent.

A pair of women's nylons now costs 13 per cent less than five years ago, men's pajamas 1 per cent less, bedsheets down 8.3 per cent and used cars 12.6 per cent less.

Lawrence Says: World Starts
To Understand
U.S. Idealism
Change in Attitude
About Mideast Issue
Seen in Free Nations

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
 Washington — Among the governments of the free world, especially those in the smaller countries, there is beginning to develop a better understanding of the far-reaching purpose of the United States and Great Britain in sending military forces to Lebanon and Jordan. In fact, the United Nations general assembly is likely now to give a two-thirds vote to any resolution proposed in support of what has been done thus far by the United States and Great Britain in the Middle East.

 Again the United States has demonstrated before the world its unselfish idealism. Unlike big powers in the past, it has gone to the defense of a small nation without seeking a single foot of territory or material advantage. Its record in World War I and World War II, as well as in the Korean war, is now paralleled by America's disinterested intervention in the Middle East to save a free government.
 At first, the Soviet charge of "aggression" and memories of the misuse of force in the past created an impression of grave concern and anxiety. But as the United States and Great Britain filled in their diplomatic representatives throughout the world with the authentic background, there has come a decided change in the attitude of many governments.
 The issue is very simply stated by the American diplomats. It revolves around these vital questions: does a small country want to go unprotected hereafter when a larger one starts infiltrating its territory and assassinating its leaders and begins to take a rebel regime under its own control? How long would any small country last if "indirect aggression" were to go unchecked? What one of the countries in Latin America or Africa or Asia or Europe would be safe? Relied on UN

 Here are the facts that faced the United States government before it made its historic decision to land troops in Lebanon:
 1. The United States had relied on the UN observer team to expose what was happening as arms and supplies and espionage agents crossed into Lebanon. But the UN observers proved inadequate in number and did not have access to border areas to get vital information.
 2. The American government had documented proof that the rebels in Lebanon were receiving aid in arms and personnel from the outside. The American embassy in Beirut reported flatly that the rebel leader has been maintaining an open telephone line to the Syrian capital of Damascus.
 The American and British governments really have no desire to keep their troops on the soil of Middle Eastern countries a moment longer than is absolutely necessary. Some means, however, must be found, the American government feels, to authorize through the United Nations general assembly the sending of an international police force immediately into any country where there is "indirect aggression" and the existing government asks for help.
 Case in Nutshell
 As one diplomat explained it, here is the case in a nutshell: "You can ask the various countries of the world to take their chances on the side of freedom, but are they to be asked to sit still and request no help from the larger countries and take their chances on having their principal officials assassinated before help does come? To ask a government leader to surrender his life under such circumstances, as happened in Iraq, is asking a great deal. It may take a little time for these facts to sink in, but eventually world opinion will swing behind that simple proposition of providing a safeguard against indirect aggression."
 Out of the present crisis may come the establishment of a principle of tremendous moral force in the world. The emphasis heretofore in the UN has been on the prevention of war and the peaceful settlement of

Travel Director Says:
Top Gasoline, Care Save
Car From Summer Vapor Lock
 "If you use any of the quality gasolines, and keep your car in good mechanical condition, your chances of developing vapor lock and stalling in ordinary hot summer driving are practically zero," says Carol Lane, women's travel director of an oil company.
 However, vapor lock can develop on a hot day when you're creeping along in bumper-to-bumper traffic because the engine doesn't get enough air to cool it sufficiently and warm disputes between nations. But the spectre of a big war now has arisen, as the world sees what "indirect aggression" really can mean inside small and helpless countries everywhere, and then to the peace of all nations.

 It's all very well to sympathize with the aspirations of "Arab nationalism," but unless military forces are ready to protect the territorial integrity and political independence of the smaller countries, the hopes of any "nationalism" can be crushed by the tyranny of a new kind of colonialism. Certainly if the United Nations acts wisely now in supporting preventive measures against "indirect aggression," this will be a long step toward emancipating the countries already held captive through acts of indirect aggression.
 Other Nationalism
 One wonders why so little is heard today about the aspirations of Polish nationalism, Bulgarian nationalism, Hungarian nationalism, Rumanian nationalism, Czechoslovak nationalism, Lithuanian nationalism, Latvian nationalism, and Estonian nationalism.
 Maybe the Moscow government, which professes so much enthusiasm for "Arab nationalism," has been vetoing every protective measure the UN security council offers because of a fear that the weaker countries in eastern Europe will next come under the protection of the UN. The United States and Britain have announced that they are ready to withdraw their troops from Lebanon and Jordan when there is no longer any danger of "indirect aggression." Will the Soviets withdraw their troops from all the foreign countries they now occupy by duress?
 This is a question that will surely be asked by picket lines and demonstrations in New York City if Premier Khrushchev decides to attend a summit meeting there.

gasoline vaporizes prematurely in the fuel system.
 Gasoline can "boil" to a vapor at temperatures below 100 degrees. When this happens, the vapor blocks the flow of liquid gasoline and the engine becomes "starved" for fuel.
 So you stall.
 What to do?
 Have someone push you off the road — into the shade if possible. If you have a rag and some cold water, apply the water-soaked rag to the fuel pump.
 If you can't do any of these things, don't worry. Don't do anything. In 10 or 15 minutes, the trouble will be over.

 Preventive advice from Miss Lane: When you must creep along on a hot day, "rev" the motor every minute or two to speed up the fan and cool the radiator. Also, plain water in the radiator is the best coolant, so have your dealer drain the anti-freeze, even the permanent type, and clean the cooling system.

Tavern Owners May Oppose Gov. Thomson

Miffed by Veto of 2 O'clock Closing Hour Bill Last Year

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Madison — The saloon question is returning to state politics for the first time in many years.

Some elements of the state tavern industry, especially in the tourist-conscious northland, are threatening to take part in the reelection campaign against Gov. Vernon W. Thomson.

They are miffed because the governor vetoed a bill pushed through the legislature a year ago by northern tavern lobbyists. The measure would have permitted longer opening hours for those hostilities catering to tourists. The legislature sustained the veto in one of the celebrated fights of the last legislative session.

The attempt to organize an anti-Thomson campaign, may founder, since tavern keepers do not have a friendly alternative candidate.

Sen. Gaylord Nelson of Madison, Thomson's Democratic opponent, declined to support the campaign for longer tavern hours.

In the only roll call vote on the issue last year—on the question of sustaining or overriding the governor's veto—the Madison Democratic leader voted to support Thomson.

Only five senators voted with the tavern lobby on the final disposition of the bill, including the author—Sen. Clifford Krueger of a north central district where resorts are a sizeable industry.

Animosity of the tavern trades toward Thomson is shown in a current edition of a liquor trades house organ.

"Beverage Dealer and Tavern News is happy to announce," it said, "that tavern owners in the 10th congressional district (the far northern tier of counties) have gone on record as opposing Gov. Vernon W. Thomson for reelection. It is our opinion that all tavern owners, regardless of party lines, should oppose his reelection because he has clearly demonstrated by his veto of the 2 o'clock closing bill that he is far more concerned with doing the bidding of the 'dry' press than he is with the welfare of the tavern owners."

Ancient History
The tavern-resort lobby has been struggling without success for years for longer hours during the tourist season. The 1957 bill provided for a 2 o'clock morning closing hour—against the existing 1 o'clock requirement in 7 counties—where the local governing board decided that tourist industry is a major local concern.

Backers of the concession have pointed to longer hours for taverns in Milwaukee county as a result of a war-bomb amendment never repealed.

Reports from the tourist centers of the north, indicate that there is some carry-over resentment toward Thomson among proprietors stemming from the 1955 anti-gambling act, which effectively rid resort country of slot-machines.

That prohibition was begun largely by the late Gov. Walter S. Goodland. It bore the name of Assemblyman Vernon W. Thomson, Richland Center, then the Republican majority floorleader in the lower house of the legislature and Goodland's political manager for the legislation.

Postmaster Explains Changes Ahead With Increase in Rate

Parcel post, special delivery and most international mail will not be affected by the Aug. 1 postage boost, Francis Sumnitch, postmaster, told Kiwanis club members Wednesday noon.

The increased rates will make post cards three cents, air mail cards five cents and air mail seven cents, all one cent increases, and boosts the 3-cent first class charge to four cents. International mail to Canada and Mexico comes under the increase.

The recent 5-cent service charge for mail with insufficient postage will be suspended for three months after the change, while people get used to it.

A few minor changes will be made in the Appleton post office as a result of the increased postage income, Sumnitch said, such as a new paint job and work on lighting. Money for postage goes to the treasury, not the post office department, which gets funds in congressional appropriations.

For Better Service
Tips for better postal service given by the postmaster include clear and complete addresses, zone numbers, correct postage, mail early in the day, a return address and air mail use not first class, for fast deliveries.

City Increase
Members were reminded of postal regulations and changes: first class mail no longer gets directory service, chain letters are unavailable and only completely printed, not hand or typewritten, announcements are third class—other announcements are first class, he said.

Sumnitch credited the prosperity of the Appleton area, making it a target for advertising, with the increase in mail volume. The city post office, with 135 employees, is the seventh largest in the state and ranks among the top 325 in the country.

The United States now sends and receives more than two-thirds of the world mail volume—over 61 billion pieces this year—due to its increasing population, prosperity and literacy rate, he said.

Sumnitch termed the post office, with its multiple functions, a combination bank, insurance company, collecting agency, license bureau, printing office, delivery service and information center.

The line of stamps carried by the Appleton post office exceeds the line of merchandise carried by most department stores, he said.

Home Mutual Field Salesmen Here for Mid-Year Conference

Fieldmen from five states are attending a 3-day mid-year sales conference at the home office of Home Mutual Insurance company.

Alvin C. Braun, Jr., sales manager, said the session is to discuss sales activities for the next six months to meet the company's 1958 goal of $6 million in premiums. The 1957 sales volume was $5.3 million.

The company's sales so far this year total $3.2 million, a 25 per cent increase over a year ago, Braun said. The session will end Thursday afternoon.

Pair Fails to Win Committee Approval Of Barkeep Licenses

Raymond C. Meyer, 1921 N. Ballard road, and Orville Krieck, route 2, Menasha, failed to win welfare and ordinance committee approval of their bartender license applications.

Meyer's application was denied. He was arrested April 14, 1957, for failure to assist a police officer at a fight inside the tavern where he was working and was convicted.

The committee subsequently sought to have his license revoked, but the attempt failed because of a technicality. Meyer did not ask for a license at renewal time the next June and was denied upon application in December last year.

Chief of Police Walter Hendricks told the committee Tuesday night he opposes a license for Meyer.

Krieck's application was held for study, also upon request of Hendricks.

The Promise of Taconite

Press comment from the northern reaches of Wisconsin has shown a certain resentment about the attitude of public opinion leaders in the southern districts of the state on the prospective exploitation of the taconite resources in the counties on the south Lake Superior shore.

There is now some reason to be encouraged about the possibility for economical processing of these low grade iron deposits in the district where high grade ores have long since been depleted.

But the firms that have expressed a serious interest in the establishing of processing plants have made it very clear that they must have some assurance of the right to use waters that are defined as public waters in present state law and policy, for the disposition of wastes as a minimum, and possibly to the extent of the diversion of some streams in some instances as an element of the reduction process.

Such suggestions have been met with angry protests from some southern Wisconsin critics, responding to the alarms of the conservation organizations. Some northern newspapers are asking, therefore, whether the fishing rights in a mile or two of northern Wisconsin streams are more important to the state as a whole than the possibility of significant economic gains for a big and historically depressed region.

It is almost a classic challenge, in this state which has seen these conflicts so often in recent years. We may wish devoutly, with Gov. Thomson, that this emerging conflict can be resolved fairly for all of the parties concerned, but we have our own doubts about it.

There is an unfortunate disposition in these matters for some of the most voluble participants in the debate to use a double standard of propriety and justice. One economic exploitation of a public stream is not as heinous, in the view of some of these cynical commentators, as another. Some are more equal than others, to borrow the phrase of the famed English satirist.

Thus recently the Wisconsin Valley Improvement company proposed to dam one of the small tributaries of the "hardest working river" in Wisconsin to improve the reservoir storage capacity and generating potential of the main stream. There was a loud clamor of protest, mostly from sources that had cheered on a rural electric co-operative which straddled a more scenic and recreationally more vital stream, the Flambeau river, several years earlier for precisely the same economic motives.

There is no rule of thumb that man can devise to test the esthetic value of a stream on the one hand, and its economic importance on the other. These are matters that require good judgment by men of good will.

Communities and Passenger Trains

It is general public knowledge that practically all the nation's railroads are losing money on their passenger business, and that as a result many of them are reducing or eliminating passenger service wherever public regulatory bodies will permit it. The Associated Press recently summed up the situation this way:

Strange things are happening: You can no longer get from Madison, the capital of Wisconsin, to Milwaukee, the largest city, by train. You can't get a train in or out of Paducah, Ky., a city of 65,000 people. You no longer have to pay an extra fare on the Twentieth Century Limited, the famed New York-Chicago flyer. But it's really not the Century any more. It makes more stops, has eliminated special services. The New Haven has made sharp cuts in its New York to Boston runs, the Pennsylvania has eliminated such trains as "The Senator" and "The Embassy" between New York and Washington, and the New York Central wants to abandon all service between Indianapolis and St. Louis. The Katy ran its last train into Houston last year. The Western Maryland discontinued its last passenger run in Maryland. The Frisco has abandoned passenger service between Tulsa and Enid. The Illinois Central wants to cut down service between Chicago and St. Louis.

And of course hundreds of smaller communities — many of them in Wisconsin — have lost their railroad passenger service altogether in the last few years. As the attorney for the Chicago and North Western told a committee of the Appleton city council the other evening, the only rail passenger service that has even a remote chance of becoming profitable in these times is that made up of fast, modern trains traveling between the larger centers of population.

We doubt that the smaller towns can ever hope to get the service back again; they are going to have to rely on buses and private autos or, in a few cases, air service to maintain contact with the outside world. Conversely, the great metropolitan centers undoubtedly will always have some rail passenger service, although it may not be as plentiful or convenient as in the past.

Communities the size of the Fox Cities are on the dividing line. There is no immediate prospect that they will lose the service they have now, yet if the plight of the railroads continues to worsen it may begin to happen — as witness the experience of Paducah. This is a serious matter; it is not only a question of public convenience but of community growth and prosperity. A city inconvenient to reach or leave is at a great disadvantage when it comes to industrial and commercial development.

Thus there is good reason, we think, for our community leaders to take a hard look at the situation and do whatever they can to insure the continuance of rail passenger service. Here in the Fox Cities we have waged a long and expensive battle to bring air passenger service to the community; soon the taxpayers of Outagamie county will put up a sizeable sum of money to provide facilities for the airline, including a terminal building. Since it has become clear that rail passenger service today is more important to the communities it serves than to the railroads, shouldn't we at least be taking a look at what we might do to insure a continuation of that service? It was this thinking that caused these columns to suggest that the county's new air terminal be expanded into a combination air-rail terminal. We do not insist that that is the specific or only answer to the problem, but if we start thinking along those lines we will be going in the right direction.

Civil Defense Planning

Again state policymakers at Madison have resolved to review our Wisconsin civil defense legislation, with the hope of strengthening the machinery now largely in paper form that has been designed to supplement existing civil government arrangements in the event of an emergency such as an enemy attack on major targets hereabouts.

It is not an easy task, as Gen. Olson and the other officers at Madison headquarters must have reflected many times during these long years that we have talked about the matter and have accomplished far less than we need and ought to have.

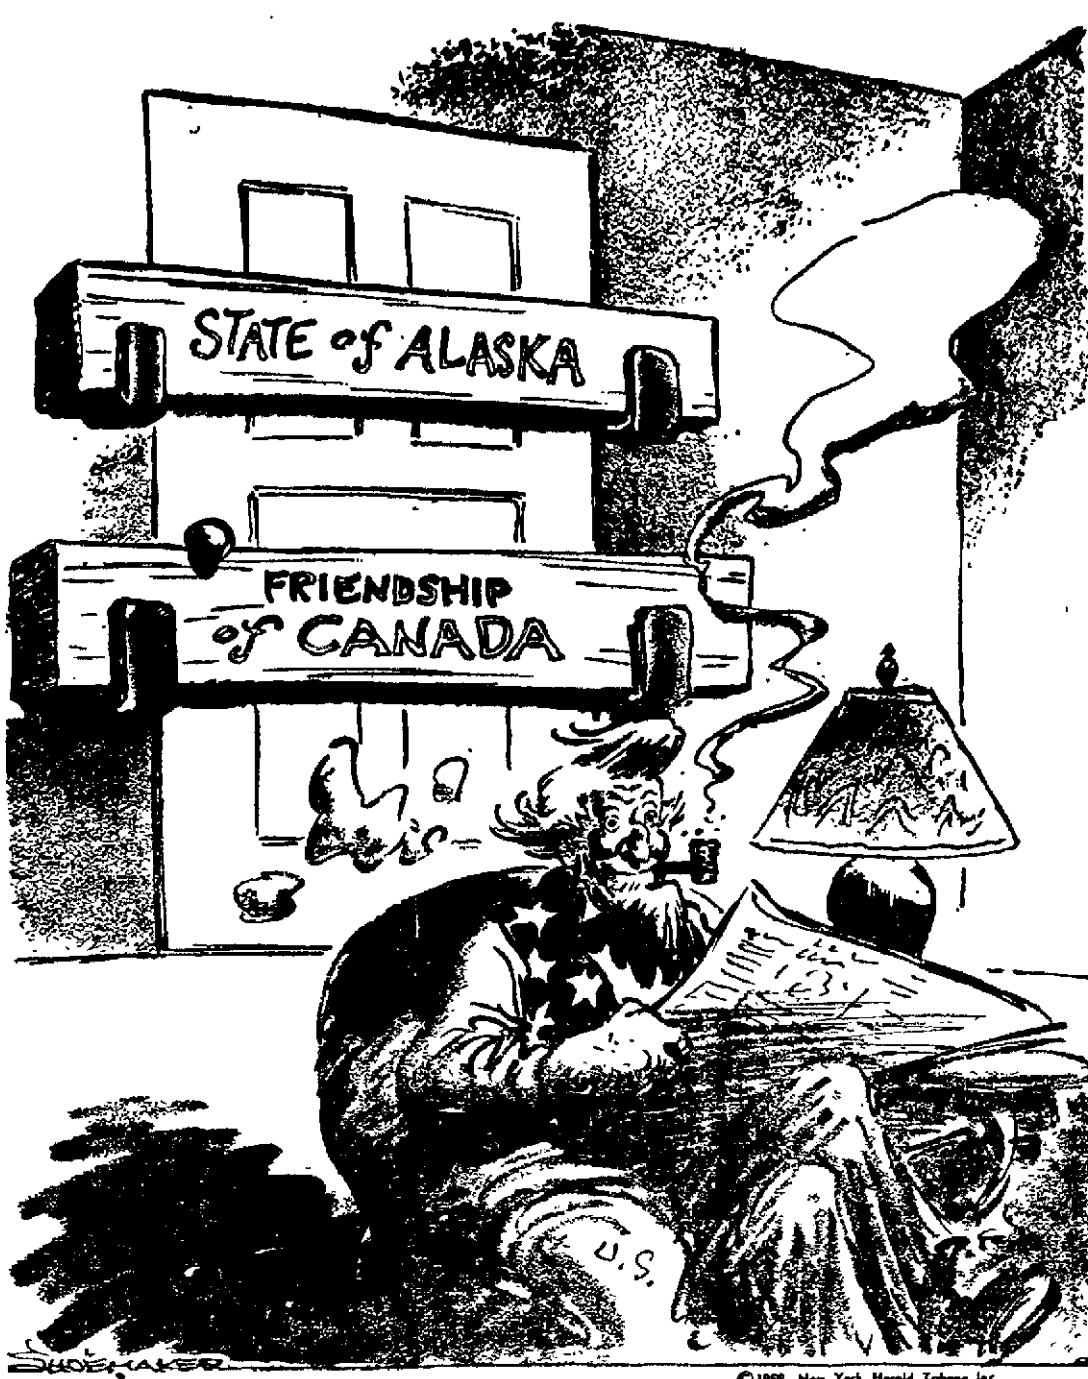

There is the very sensitive question, for example, of the authority relationship of the civil defense leaders and the regular civil officers, from mayors through police chiefs and town and county board chairmen and county sheriffs and the others, which was discussed briefly before a legislative committee the other day. Such agreements as are now in effect, it appears, have been negotiated and are quite informal. There is no statutory voice on the precise lines of responsibility and power of the civil defense captains on the one hand, and the regularly constituted authorities on the other, when the government issues a proclamation of emergency.

We believe the spokesmen for local governments who testified before the committee spoke sensibly when they agreed that such a demarcation of emergency jurisdiction is needed, but that an "emergency" should be defined with meticulous caution.

In some of the other aspects of the civil defense field some of our enthusiasts, it seems to us, are chasing windmills. If the state is actually preparing for the possibility of nuclear attack on major target areas, as one example, it must be quite futile to consider the microfilming of all public documents and records, the mountains of them in hundreds of repositories, at a cost of millions. Where would the duplicate files be stored with security?

The level of naivete of some of these planners is sometimes distressing, moreover. The other day a legislative committee chairman asked a natural question about the experience of European nations in World War II on the problems of records management under enemy attack. Whole cities in Europe were ravaged. Doubtless many records vaults were destroyed. How did the Dutch and the English and the Germans and the others manage? But the experts consulting with our legislature didn't know. Moreover, they didn't know where the answer could be had. Such revelations suggest that we have thus far made sadly little progress, for all of the years spent and all of the talk at countless meetings that has been put on the record.

Security to the North

Advertising Tax Could Put Control Of Newspaper Under Office Holder

From the Cleveland Plain Dealer

Last November Baltimore's city council, with the backing of ambitious Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro, Jr., passed two city taxes on advertising. A number of councils in other cities immediately began looking to Baltimore to see if they could join in the act.

Yesterday, in answer to a suit of Baltimore publishers and broadcasters, a circuit judge declared the two taxes unconstitutional, saying the council's action had violated "the fundamental constitutional guarantee of freedom of the press."

Baltimore's city fathers had had their second thoughts after they pushed the action through, and ordered the taxes rescinded as of the end of 1958. But they have been collecting the taxes meantime; a 4 per cent levy on gross sales of ads and a 2 per cent tax on gross receipts of publishers and broadcasters handling advertising.

By every standard of judgment held by those who understand the development of freedom of the press in this country, from Stamp act times on, the taxes certainly are unconstitutional.

Part of a newspaper's service is to publish advertising. It balances revenues from ads and circulation with its expenditures for employees, supplies and other costs, and sets its advertising rates as low as it can consistent with its costs and the need for making enough profit to keep it afloat as a responsible private agency. It pays local taxes as any other private business and federal taxes on its profits, if any, as any other business, and those taxes are not contested as unconstitutional, of course.

But to try to levy special taxes directly on advertising it carries, as Baltimore did, is an extraordinary fetter on a newspaper's service to the public and must not be tolerated because it is liable to lead to public office holders trying to hold a whip over newspaper editors' heads.

You may think that we're saying that as special pleaders. But we actually are taking the thought from a U. S. supreme court decision of 1936 in which a tax dreamed up by Huey Long, to penalize papers which had fought him, was declared unconstitutional. In that decision, Justice Sutherland wrote:

"The tax here involved is bad not because it takes money from the pockets of the appellees. It is bad because, in the light of its history and its present setting, it is seen to be a deliberate and calculated device in the form of a tax to limit the circulation of information to which the public is entitled by virtue of the constitutional guaranties."

The court also held: "A free press stands as one of the great interpreters between the government and the people. To allow it to be fettered is to fetter ourselves."

Where freedom of the press is concerned, every American with opinions is a special pleader.

More Foreign Agents Here Than Before

From the Fort Worth, Texas Star Telegram

The romanticized type of foreign agent in screen and fiction is generally a cloak-and-dagger fellow slinking in dark places and plotting diabolically against his host country.

No doubt there are some approximations of this stereotype at large in the world, but today there are more foreign agents operating openly in this country than ever before. They number 368. By and large they are a prosaic lot, strictly business, and given to publicity

Looking Backward

Amusement Area Near Appleton

79 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for the week of July 28, 1879.

Mr. Roby, of Menasha, has taken a lease of a large portion of the Lake Shore, south of Appleton, a part of which he has fenced in and fitted up with a restaurant, dancing and dining halls, and bath houses.

He can accommodate parties desiring to take advantage of the splendid bathing afforded in the lake at this point, or those who prefer to visit the place for picnic or camping purposes.

Mr. Roby is an energetic as well as an accomplished man, and those who wish to enjoy a pleasant half-day's amusement will do well to take in the lake in their program.

The drive there from Appleton is but a trifle over three miles.

25 YEARS AGO

Thursday, July 20, 1933 . . . Wiley Post, American globe-circling aviator, passed over Nome, Alaska at 12:30 that day. His plans called for a landing at Fairbanks, 500 miles east of Nome, where preparations had been made for refueling the plane for Post's flight to Edmonton, Alberta, Canada.

Four Appleton golfers, representing the Appleton Elks, won the team event in the Elks National tournament at Milwaukee. They collected 680 strokes over the Blue Mound course to lead the second place Gary team by 21 strokes. The golfers were Ken Dickinson, Ralph McGowan, August Brandt and Gordon Derber.

Polk Co. Chiropractor Enters Political Arena

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison — Political pot-pourri:

There are signs that the clash of organized medicine and the chiropractors which flared so bitterly and violently in recent sessions of the state legislature may be carried into the election campaigns this summer and fall.

Wyngaard

Luther S. Toftness, a Polk county chiropractor who lobbied shrewdly and effectively for his colleagues in the 1957 legislature, has filed as a candidate for state senator in the Republican primary in northwestern Wisconsin against Sen. Holger Rasmussen, who stood with the organized medicine forces against chiropractic bills in that session.

Prof. Harold Groves, the University of Wisconsin economics teacher, is one of the chief policy consultants of Sen. Gaylord Nelson, the Democratic candidate for governor, and for other party leaders. Along with other university folk, he had a hand in the composition of the recent Democratic convention platform.

COLEMAN ACTIVE

Thomas E. Coleman, the former GOP state organization chief who virtually gave up party work several years ago, is showing more partisan activity. He is accepting an occasional meeting assignment and speaking engagement now.

Those who may imagine that the occasional signs of or propaganda, lobbying or seeking tourists for their client-countries, rather than engaging in intrigue and spying.

Information services are operated in this country by most countries, notably those receiving and seeking foreign aid, and the tourist bureaus are closely related. Another modern type foreign agent is the legal adviser or counsel, such as the law firm of Thomas E. Dewey in New York, which has had the account of Turkey for several years.

Political "lame ducks" unable to find government jobs or lobby retainers are notable among the agents of foreign countries. Ubiquitous press agents or public relations experts likewise are found browsing in the green fields of foreign agency.

criticism and resentment among Democrats toward Chairman Patrick Lucey are embarrassing or otherwise unwelcome are mistaken. Lucey rather enjoys a fuss being made about him and his work and viewpoints. The effective party chairman is likely to invite criticism and opposition along the way, as he sees it.

Gov. Thomson got some plain criticism about his opposition to "right to work" legislation at the recent meeting of the Republican state committee, but took it gracefully, according to all accounts. The committee as such has not expressed itself formally on the question, as far as is known, but there are obviously some members who share the conviction of the recent GOP delegate convention that the issue is worthy of being submitted to a referendum ballot next year.

Jesse Boell, a specialist in archives and records management who was transferred to the statehouse last year from the State Historical society over the strenuous objections of Society Director Clifford Lord, is making a good impression upon the legislature and administrative officers. For the first time in its history, the state is developing a practical and economic program of handling files and records which governments pile up in such herculean volumes.

COOPERATION

One of the productive devices of GOP Chairman Claude J. Jasper is the periodical "Chairman's Memo" from headquarters to local party functionaries in which trends and events politicians regard as important are related and commented upon. In earlier years many local party people felt the lack of liaison with the distant capitol and capital city party headquarters.

Former Gov. Oscar Rennebohm is struggling to become accustomed to new glasses. He recently submitted to surgery for the removal of cataracts and now appears to be in his usual and vigorous good health.

He recently encountered a reporter, during a state-house visit, a man who was not always as kind in his commentaries as a politician might wish.

"You look a little blurred," he said, as he mentioned the new glasses. "But then you always were," he laughed.

Sen. Gaylord Nelson, who wears a Scandinavian name that may be helpful in collecting votes in many precincts this fall, is learning that it is not surely an unmixed blessing. An upper Wisconsin Democrat was boasting about the Democratic leader's campaign prowess to a Republican. "Gaylord Peterson," he insisted, "will be the next governor."

No Answer in Sight On Menominee Rule

Indians to Vote on Form of Local Government in Sept. 9 Election

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
Madison — The chairman of a special state commission studying Menominee Indian problems Monday struck a dubious note as he discussed the difficulties in the way of finally freeing the Indian tribe from national government control and supervision.

Atty. Gen. Stewart G. Honeck, commission chairman, made a report on the three years of study by his group on the problems associated with the prospective termination of federal jurisdiction. The reservation has 3,300 inhabitants in Shawano and Oconto counties.

"We're yet a long way from an answer to the problem of what disposition will be made of the reservation property and how the territory will be governed," he told the legislative council.

(Under revised federal law, the subject of some dispute in recent congressional deliberations, the tribe is required to submit to the U. S. secretary of interior by next February a plan for the termination of federal controls, and the date for final termination of federal responsibility has been set for the end of 1960.)

Specialists Aid
The state commission has been functioning for more than three years, with the aid of a variety of specialists and sub-committees.

Honeck said if the Indians decide they want a separate local government, the legislative authority must be granted during the 1959 legislative session. But if a constitutional amendment is required, there may be complications, he pointed out. The 1959 and 1961 legislatures would be required to act, which would put the final action beyond the present termination date in federal law.

But the Indians could decide to remain in Oconto and Shawano counties, as they are now, he suggested.

Rep. Robert Marotz, Shawano county, retiring speaker of the legislature and chairman of the legislative council, reported tribal members will vote on Sept. 9 — regular primary election date — on the form of local government they desire to follow federal control termination.

Britain May Use Force to Hold Persian Gulf Lands

All Three Rich Oil Countries are Protectorates; Plan Gets U. S. Nod

BY JOSEPH ALSOP

Washington—The best measure of the western defeat in the Middle East is the character of the remedies that were discussed by Secretary of State Dulles and Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd.

In brief, the American government has now three-quarters bought an idea that has always been popular in the British government—the idea of using the unpeopled-oil-rich area at the head of the Persian gulf as a kind of desperate hole-card in the desperate Middle Eastern game. Superficially, the hole-card looks attractive.

Even with no oil flowing from either Iraq or Iran, the entire British and western European oil requirements can quite easily be met by the wells in the three little gulf-coast sheikhdoms, Kuwait, Bahrain and Qatar. All three are British protectorates. Kuwait in turn adjoins Saudi Arabia's eastern province of Al-Hasa, while the island of Bahrain lies just off shore. And the vast majority of the oil wells of Saudi Arabia is concentrated in this one province, which also contains the Dahrhan headquarters and refinery of the Arabian-American Oil company.

In other words, the western oil-jugular cannot be cut, so long as the oil flow from this single area at the head of the Persian gulf is not interrupted. Britain furthermore maintains a considerable garrison on Bahrain, and Bahrain is also the base for British naval units operating in Persian gulf waters. The United States also has some military forces in the area, at the Dahrhan air base close to ARAMCO's headquarters and refinery.

The British idea is simply to hang on to the gulf coast sheikhdoms by military force if need be. There would be no great difficulty in doing this, if the most important oil-producers happened to be Bahrain, where British troops are already stationed. But the Bahrain wells are of minor importance, and Kuwait and Qatar are the real prizes, with Kuwait by far the biggest prize of the two.

Moral Support
What Selwyn Lloyd asked for in Washington, therefore, was the promise of American support for military occupation of Kuwait and Qatar, if Nasserite agitation in the sheikhdoms make this step necessary. According to reliable sources, John Foster Dulles at least three-quarters committed himself to give the British moral support, providing the legitimate governments of the sheikhdoms ask the British to aid them with troops.

This in turn gives special interest to the sudden appearance in Damascus of the present ruler of Kuwait, Sheikh Abdullah As-Sabah. The Sheikh of Kuwait was apparently vacationing in the Syrian capital when Gamal Abdel Nasser flew in from Moscow. Hence the recent meeting between the sheikh Nasser may perhaps have been accidental. But taken in conjunction with the sheikh of Kuwait's earlier visit to Cairo, it was "the sort of accident that makes you think," as one American policymaker remarked.

Besides the danger in Kuwait, the danger in Saudi Arabia cannot be overlooked. King Saud's virtual abdication in favor of Crown Prince Faisal has by no means stabilized the situation there. A Nasserite conspiracy to seize control of the Arabian government is just as likely in fact, as a Nasserite grab for Kuwait. If this danger materializes, the British will surely press the American government to try to detach and hold Al-Hasa province. And this project looks fairly feasible, if it wins the support of the virtually independent governor of Al-Hara, Sheikh Saud bin Jaloud.

There is, indeed, only one difficulty about the Persian gulf hole-card. In the present state of the Middle East, the mere dispatch of British troops to Kuwait would have the approximate effect of a big bomb in a crowded movie house.

Jap Conductor Rates as True Sherlock Holmes

Tokyo —(U)— This story is called "The Case of the Discerning Lips," and Sherlock Holmes would undoubtedly have approved of the tactics employed by the hero, a conductor for Japan's national railway system.

The railway is cracking down on fare-evaders. The conductor — who bashfully remains unidentified — was taking tickets from passengers arriving at Tokyo's busy Shinjuku station. A pretty girl insisted she had lost her ticket.

Challenged, she indignantly replied she had just come from the swimming pool at nearby Korakuen stadium, and that her ticket cost only 20 yen (7.2 cents), obviously too small a sum to cheat for.

"See," she cried, producing a damp swim suit as a clincher, "This proves I've been to

Police Officers Weep As They Jail Sons

Atlanta —(U)— Two Atlanta policemen, weeping openly, jailed their own sons for suspicion of burglary yesterday.

A third youth named the officers' sons as accomplices in the alleged burglary. Supt. of Detectives Glyn Cowan assigned the fathers to bring the boys in.

The arrested youths are H. E. Little III, son of Detective R. E. Little; James D. Corley, son of Policeman J. D. Corley; and M. K. Clay. All three are 17.

The pool. I demand an apology."

The conductor pondered the matter, then suddenly pressed the suit to his lips and found a distinctly salty flavor.

The startled girl confessed she had been swimming at Zushi, a seaside resort 45 miles south of Tokyo, and hadn't bought a ticket.

by the CIO the office won by Schultz, elected by CIO delegates.

Haberman and Hall were unopposed and elected by acclamation, while Schultz defeated Howard Pellant of Milwaukee, an international representative of the United Auto Workers who is also a Democratic state assemblyman. The victory for Schultz was assured when he received the support of the United Steelworkers.

Consolidation of the Wisconsin unions follows by 2 years and 8 months the merger of national unions. The CIO will take 86,000 members, and the AFL 176,000 members into the new organization.

The merger agreement was reached at the direction of national headquarters and with the aid of national officers who attended meeting in Milwaukee last spring.

In his last address as head of the AFL, Haberman told the delegates that the greatest battle for the unified organization will come from legislation.

"In the legislative halls," he said, "it is necessary to find people qualified and with understanding of the dignity of labor and protective interests of labor, regardless of what their party might be."

Fire Escape Artist Fools Court Clerk

Chicago — There's really nothing exciting about a man on a fire escape but when it happens at the criminal courts building and the man is wearing a prison-type jacket, well...

The bells rang, the whistles blew and the cops came running.

Tave's Story

What was he doing on the fire escape?

It happened this way: Tave had just won dismissal of a burglary charge. Understandably anxious to be off, he walked swiftly to the fourth-floor elevator.

No Elevator

He rang and rang. No elevator.

So Tave climbed out on the fire escape, walked down two flights and popped into the second floor law library of the state's attorney. Where's the stairs? he asked. A clerk pointed the way and off he went.

A second later the clerk did a double-take. What would any man be doing on a fire escape and wearing a prison-type jacket? Escaped prisoner it must be.

Called Police

That's when police began tearing through the place.

Ten minutes later Tave was found at the bus stop. He was hauled back to court. A bailiff quickly confirmed his story and the jacket just happened to look like a prison jacket.

Off went Tave again. He waited for the elevator this time.

Like Seeks Agreement on Rules for Summit Talks

than the question of U. S.-Soviet relations about which we have talked so much."

Among conditions Khrushchev attached to a summit meeting were that Prime Minister Nehru of India and Arab leaders be invited.

Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles conferred by telephone early this morning on a reply to the Soviet premier.

The White House said they talked in advance of a 9 a. m. national security council meeting.

Summit questions presumably were discussed at the council meeting. And, after it was over, Dulles stayed on for a private talk with the president.

Talks Between Allies

Eisenhower and his secretary of state, White House Press Officer James C. Hagerty reported, were concerned with working out a reply to Khrushchev.

Hagerty held open the possibility that the message might be dispatched to Moscow today but said that was not certain by any means.

Hagerty said he presumed the U. S. reply would be discussed with this country's allies—"primarily France and the United Kingdom"—before it was put into final form for transmission to the Kremlin.

He said he did not expect the answer to Khrushchev's latest statement to be immediate, but he did not rule out the possibility it might come later today.

The proposed gathering of the heads of the 11 governments represented on the security council would bring Eisenhower and Khrushchev face to face for the first time since the Geneva summit conference in July, 1955. It would also give Khrushchev, communism's ebullient No. 1 salesman, his first opportunity to visit the United States—a trip he has long wanted to make.

One of the things that top U. S. officials dislike about the whole project is that it would also give him an unparalleled forum for airing his charges of aggression in the Middle East against this country and Britain and peddling Russia's peace propaganda.

The principal difficulties still in the way of arranging the proposed meeting, as defined by officials here, are these: Khrushchev's acceptance mentioned specifically the attendance also of Eisenhower, British Prime Minister Macmillan, French Premier de Gaulle, and Prime Minister Nehru of India.

But Paris dispatches said it was unlikely that De Gaulle would attend. While favoring a summit meeting in principle, he has publicly announced his opposition to such a meeting at the U.N. at this time on the ground that it would be a propaganda battle royal. The question raised by his attitude is this: If De Gaulle flatly refuses, as French diplomats predict he will, will Khrushchev come anyway?

Khrushchev said that invitations to participate must go to Prime Minister Nehru and the governments of the Arab countries, but neither India nor most of the Arab states are members of the security council. They could participate as non-voting guests if the council invites them as interested parties, but even this would change the nature of the meeting that the western powers envisioned—that is, an extraordinary session of security council members.

In his letter to Eisenhower Khrushchev renewed his charge that the western powers have committed aggression in the Middle East. Eisenhower previously had rejected the accusation, and it seemed clear he is determined not to go into the conference in the role of a defendant.

No Violent Intentions Were Planned as Sen. Warren Magnuson, D-Wash., left, and Justice John E. Cone of the New York state supreme court crossed long knives in a capitol hill hearing room today. They were calling attention to the collection of lethal weapons taken from teenage hoodlums. Completing the group are Sen. John M. Butler, R-Md., upper left, and Frank J. Pino of Brooklyn, N. Y., state senator. Cone wants congress to outlaw the importation, manufacture and shipment in interstate commerce of gravity and switchblade knives. (AP Wirephoto) more economical national defense."

Essentially the bill accomplishes what Eisenhower advocated to clarify the command of the president, through the secretary of defense, over army - navy - air force - marine task forces in the field.

Safeguards Included

But congress, traditionally insisting on preserving the identity of the separate services, did not give the defense secretary all the peacetime power Eisenhower advocated to tighten organizational control over the services. Moreover, congress wrote in some provisions which it described as safeguards but which Eisenhower has criticized as possibly obstructive.

But the measure does reduce the powers of the service secretaries and the individual military chiefs.

The bill provides a clear-cut command system for the kind of forces most often used in modern wars — teams composed of selected elements of one, or the national guard might be two or more services. Once a service committed units to such a force it could not withdraw them without approval of the

Jet Bomber May Fly Halfway Around World With No Refueling Stop

Wichita, Kans. — The first B52G jet bomber, which may be able to fly halfway around the world without refueling rolled off the production line at Wichita's Boeing Airplane company plant Wednesday.

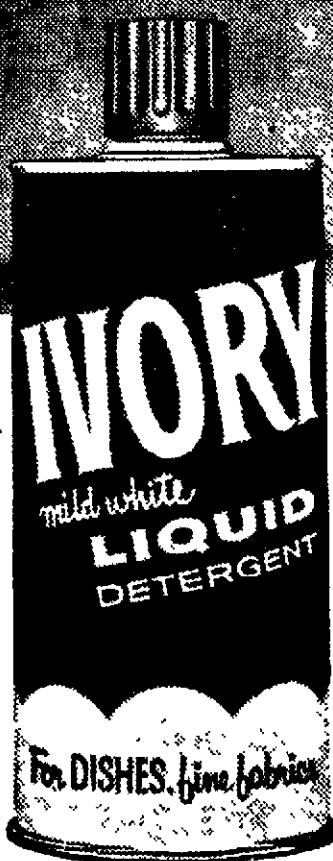

The air force said only that the B52G will fly higher, farther and faster and carry more punch than the earlier B52 models. Boeing says the new plane is in the 650-mile-an-hour class, can go higher than 50,000 feet and has better range than its 6,000-mile plus predecessor.

Aviation writers who saw the plane estimated its range at 10,000 miles.

secretary of defense. Task force commanders would report to the top, without going through individual service secretaries.

On the other hand, congress declined to give the defense secretary authority to transfer or abolish the military roles of the services. To calm fears that the marines, the navy's air arm or the national guard might be abolished or drastically changed, provisions were written into the bill to require congressional approval of any major change.

Today's word: repugnant; distasteful in a high degree; offensive. "All rudeness was repugnant to her nature."

Barefoot Boy With Cheeks of Tan Held For Six Burglaries

Blackfoot, Idaho — What does it remind you of when you see a barefoot boy scuffling through the dust on a hot July afternoon, faithful dog at his heels?

It reminded Blackfoot police of six burglaries.

They arrested the boy Monday and said he admitted taking about $17 in nickels and dimes from three service stations and three cleaning shops.

Assistant Chief S. S. Kunz said police found footprints of a dog and a barefoot boy around broken windows at each place.

When they spotted the boy, age 10, there wasn't anything to make them suspicious, except that he was barefoot and had a dog.

You hardly ever see a barefoot boy any more, they said.

Paraffin on Eggs Reproduces Any Colorful Design, Picture

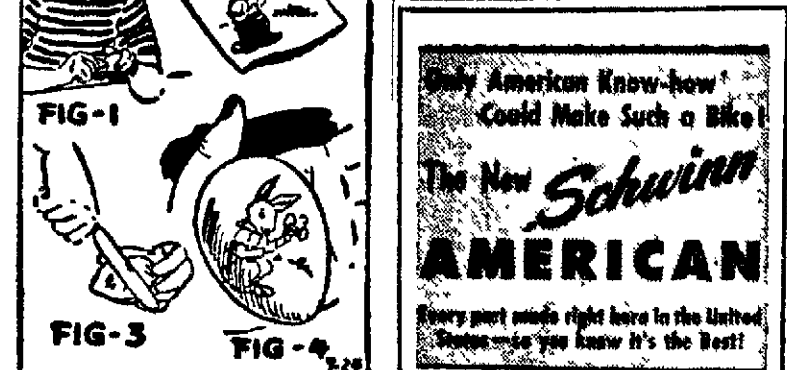

BY CAPPY DICK

By following today's fun-project directions it is possible to reproduce any newspaper picture on the shell of a hard-boiled egg. It can be a picture of a sports star, the president, an outstanding Boy Scout, or a missed rubbing no part of the picture, remove the paper. You will find you have transferred the printer's ink to the egg shell (Figure 4), with every line and dot showing.

Best results are obtained if the picture is a small one, like the head of a person, or a small sketch. If it is too big, the result will likely be distorted and parts of the picture won't show on the curved surface of the egg.

(Copyright, 1958)

picture from any of the comic strips or advertisements

Here's how to do it:

First, cook the egg until it is hardboiled. While the shell is hot, rub it with a bar of paraffin until the whole surface is covered with a thin layer of wax. That's what the boy is doing in Figure 1. Let the egg cool.

From the newspaper, clip the picture you want to transfer to the egg. Perhaps you would first like to experiment with a character from one of the comic strips or a small drawing clipped from an advertisement (Figure 2).

Place the picture face down on the side of the egg and, holding it there firmly, rub it with the flat blade of a table knife (Figure 3). Be sure you rub every part of the picture, pressing it gently against the waxed surface.

Third Driver Pays Same Amount for Inattentive Driving

Racing their cars on E. College avenue Wednesday night cost two Appleton youths $50 and six points each in fines this morning in municipal court.

Conrad M. Seagraves, 23, 1500 W. Lawrence street, and Frank X. Kreiling, Jr., 19, 1601 Highland avenue, pleaded guilty. Their driver's licenses were revoked for 60 days, but Judge Oscar J. Schmieg stayed revocation on the condition they are not arrested for a moving traffic violation for a year.

Gary D. Bazile, 21, 18 Embury court, was fined $50 and charged three points for inattentive driving. He was arrested Tuesday morning after his car ran over the sidewalk and struck a railing at the corner of S. Oneida and Water streets. The accident will cost Bazile another three points.

Bazile and a passenger received minor cuts in the accident.

Other Cases

Gerald M. Schink, 21, 503 1/2 E. South River street, was fined $15 and charged three points for speeding.

Jerry Stingle, 18, 1807 S. Carpenter street, was fined $10 and charged three points for ignoring a stop sign.

Charges of driving across a fire hose against two men were dismissed on payment of costs. David Lindsey, 38, 1420 W. Grant street, and Edward Moore, 19, 319 W. Winnebago street, were arrested Tuesday evening on W. Wisconsin avenue during the fire at the Fox River Valley Knitting company.

Slate Varied, Days Nice at YMCA Camp

Sixty boys from Appleton and 16 from Dale, Chilton, Neenah, Menasha, Little Chute and Kaukauna have had good weather and a varied program since their session at YMCA Camp U-Nah-Li-Ya began Sunday, Carl Bruno, youth secretary said.

The camp is on Chute lake near Mountain in the Nicolet National forest area. Campers' ages range from 8 to 15.

Included in the program are archery, canoeing, sailing, water skiing, riflery, fishing, swimming and Indian lore. Campers have collected two porcupines, grass snakes, frogs and turtles in their nature lore program.

Overnight campouts are planned for Friday night and campers will return Sunday afternoon.

Girls still may register for girls' sessions at the camp from July 31 to Aug. 8 and Aug. 8 to 16, Bruno said.

Report Clash of Red, Nasser Forces

Beirut —(AP)—Returning travelers say the communists have come into open conflict with President Nasser's forces in Aleppo, northern Syria.

The informants, who are completely reliable, said the Reds organized "volunteer bands" of 50 each to shout "down with Nasser" in public places. When they began shouting near the officers' club, more than 200 were arrested.

The informants said that on July 5 the left-wing transport union went on strike. The Nasser government rushed troops in to operate the public transport and broke the strike.

Since the Syrian-Egyptian union in February, Aleppo has had an economic slump and the communists are trying to blame it on Nasser.

Indoor Gardening

Miniature Grape-Ivy Vine Climbs by Tiny Red Tendrils

BY KATHERINE B. WALKER

As any steady reader of Indoor Gardening knows, I am partial to vines. If my family didn't think windows were for looking out of, instead of just looking at, I would grow even more than I do now. My latest acquisition, and current favorite, is Cissus striata, called Miniature Grape-ivy.

This vine is related to the Kangaroo-vine (Cissus antarctica), Rex-begonia-vine (C. discolor), and is a smaller, more colorful edition of the standard Grape-ivy (C. rhombifolia).

The thin stems are reddish, and climb by tiny red tendrils; leaves are palmate, having five toothed leaflets, and these too show reddish coloration, being bronze-green above and wine-red beneath. The leaves are only about an inch-and-a-half across, and the ten drills are almost hairthin, so this really is in the miniature class.

Likes It Warm

This Cissus likes it warm, and doesn't mind if the temperature goes up to 85. It does need fairly humid air, so I offset the drying effects of the air in our house by growing C. striata on a moss-stick which I keep well-soaked. Excess water running down the stick maintains ample moisture in the loose, humusy soil, and the plant is kept in strong light but away from direct sunlight.

Within a few weeks after I planted C. striata, it had swarmed all over the moss-stick. Now when its inquisitive little "fingers" reach out too far, they are snapped off and rooted in water, to be given to friends.

Questions and Answers

Some time back, a lady wrote you that she was having trouble growing crotons. Would you please tell her that I grow mine in sphagnum-moss which I keep moist, and once every month I pour liquid plant food over the moss, flushing it out again with clear water after a few hours.

Thank you for this excellent cultural advice. I hope the troubled croton-owner reads it.

Is there such a thing as a Blue Amaryllis?

The plant which is called Blue Amaryllis is Amaryllis procera or warsleya rayneri. It is very rare, and not easy to grow.

We brought a lovely little

wild fern back from our trip this spring, and would like to know how to care for it. It was growing wild, but we had permission to dig it, and remembering your column last year, we didn't take it across any state lines that had plant quarantines.

You have shown such consideration for the "law" in getting your fern and bringing it home, it breaks my heart to have to tell you that it will not be a good indoor plant. Wild ferns (from Minnesota, for example, where you got yours) go dormant in the winter, but you can plunge the pot outdoors in a protected place for the winter, and force it into early activity by bringing it indoors next April.

FWD Awarded New Contract By Air Force

Firm to Produce Additional Number Of Teracruzers

Clintonville—The Four Wheel Drive Auto company has been awarded a $1 million prime contract by the U. S. air force for an additional quantity of missile-carrying Teracruzers, it was announced today by G. F. DeCoursin, vice president-marketing.

The Clintonville firm has previously produced 163 of these vehicles for the air force to transport Matador missiles.

The Teracruzer, unveiled in 1955, is the famous "pillow-tired" eight wheel drive vehicle designed to carry military cargo and troops over any type of terrain. The low pressure, pneumatic bag roller-type principle permits the Teracruzer to "swallow" obstacles in its way—a special problem on rocky ground, in marshy areas or the Arctic regions.

The Teracruzers in this event order will be part of the tactical air command's MACE weapons system. Delivery is scheduled within the next year.

Praises City for Street Light Plan

Edward L. Goenen, 222 N. Oneida street, today commended the city for indicating it might place new street lights on Appleton, Superior and Oneida streets in the downtown business section. The work, however, should be done all at once and not in two stages, with Oneida street last, he said.

The public safety committee Monday night ordered Electrical Inspector Fred Volkman to prepare cost estimates for study by the budget committee in November.

Minute Crabs Often Inhabit Shells of Clam, Mussel, Cockle

BY RAMON COFFMAN

Among the crabs with strange customs, there are some which are very small. They have bodies which measure less than an inch in width and because of their small size, are known as pea crabs.

Pea crabs like to go inside the shell of a cockle, a mussel or a clam, and to live there!

People of ancient times knew about the pea crab. A story grew up that, in return for being allowed to have a home, the pea crab pinched the host to give warning of danger!

Q. What is the hermit crab?

A. It is a crab with a soft, narrow abdomen. Instead of growing a hard shell around its abdomen, it looks around for an empty shell, usually from a snail. It may test several shells before making a choice. Then it moves backward until the abdomen is pushed into the shell.

For weeks or months, the hermit crab carries the shell around. After the abdomen grows to a certain extent, the crab decides to move out. Then it looks around for a larger shell, and repeats the performance.

Hermit crabs are found along the shores of the Atlantic ocean, also in various coastal parts of the Pacific. Often they live in close association with the plant-like animals known as sea anemones (uh-NEM-oh-nees). The sea anemone fastens itself to the shell, and eats some of the "crumbs" when a crab takes a meal.

In return, the sea anemone guards the hermit crab to a certain extent, using its stinging powers against any enemy, which may come close.

A meeting between two hermit crabs. Notice the plant-like animal on the shell of one crab.

Q. How large are hermit crabs?

A. Most of them are small, growing to a length of only an inch or two. Others, especially in the Pacific area, reach a length of more than a foot. The large ones seek out the empty shells of big shellfish.

Lippmann Sees Temporary Military Status Quo in Middle East Nations

BY WALTER LIPPMANN

For the moment, there appears to be a pause with something of the nature of a military standstill in the Middle East. It is precarious, and most certainly it is temporary. But it rests, so it would seem, on a recognition in both camps that the status quo cannot now be altered by military means without inordinate and incalculable risk.

The three Western powers have agreed that they will not invade Iraq in order to make a counter revolution, and that they will not permit Turkey or Jordan to march against Baghdad. On the other hand, it is reasonably clear that Nasser and Khrushchev will not now move their military forces against the American Marines and the British paratroopers. During this momentary balance of power, it is the turn of the statesmen and the diplomats to take over.

Cool Assessment
A cool assessment of our position is the essential basis of a constructive diplomatic policy. What happened in Iraq, the keystone of the Baghdad pact and supposedly the one firm and reliable pro-Western Arab country? Was King Faisal's government the victim of external aggression as were Czechoslovakia and Poland and Hungary?

It was not, King Faisal's government was overthrown swiftly and totally by a conspiracy of Iraqi officers. What is most significant is that the Iraqi army supported the revolution immediately and that this revolution is manifestly popular in the country. So, we would be deluding ourselves if we believed that the friendly government of Iraq was subverted by foreign agents acting contrary to the national sentiment of the country.

There is, therefore, no reason to hope that there will be a counter revolution which restores the old Iraqi regime. It is plain that no kind of military intervention — for example, by King Hussein of Jordan backed by the British and the Americans — would have any chance of success.

It has been said that what restrains us is the fear of Russian intervention in Iraq. That is not a bad reason for restraint. But it is not the only, or even the final, reason. For even if Russian neutrality were guaranteed, which it is not, no western military intervention in Iraq could succeed in establishing an independent Arab government in Baghdad. There could be only a puppet government, dependent on the British and American force, and doomed to destruction if they were ever withdrawn. This is another way of saying that the popular revolutionary movement of the Arabs cannot be overcome by western arms.

This same fundamental truth applies to our present position in the Lebanon. We cannot successfully entrench ourselves there in hostile opposition to the Arab movement. In fact, we cannot assure the independence of the Lebanon with the forces that are now at Beirut and on the beaches nearby. The independence of the Lebanon can be assured only if the civil war is ended and the new Lebanese state is then guaranteed protection.

Marines Liability
Now, it is almost certainly true that while the marines can protect President Chamoun against a palace revolution like that in Baghdad, the marines are a liability when it comes to making a lasting settlement of the civil war. For any Lebanese government which owes its existence to the marines is doomed to destruction when the marines leave. Moreover, the longer the marines stay on, the greater will be the popular opposition to them in the Lebanon.

This leads me to think that our Lebanese policy, as we have presented it to the U. N., is too thin, is lacking in diplomatic vitality, and may be quite sterile. We have said that the marines will go out when a U. N. force replaces them. As the chances are not good that the U. N. will set up a force to replace the marines, we are in danger of having to leave the marines in the Lebanon for the indefinite future, to leave them there not only without the hope of withdrawal but without the hope of accomplishing anything while they remain.

It seems to me that we should, therefore, come forward soon with a large proposal for the political future of the Lebanon. It would have to begin with the settlement of the civil war, perhaps by the good offices of Sec. Gen. Hamarskjold. The settlement would be followed by the neutralization of the Lebanon under the guarantee of the U. N., which would include the interested powers.

We must seek, I think, to give Russia and Nasser a political interest and a juridical an accommodation of interests. A neutralized Lebanon would not be the end of the middle eastern problem. But it might be an auspicious beginning of a settlement. For it would establish the principle, which is essential to any settlement, that the Soviet Union and the Nasser confederation have interests in the Middle East and that we are prepared to work out an accommodation.

There will be some, perhaps many, who believe that an accommodation of interests is in the bad sense of the word, the Munich sense, appeasement. For myself, I do not think that it is appeasement, that Nasser's part in the Iraqi revolution is at all like the dismantlement of Czechoslovakia by Hitler.

Nasser is Nasser, not Hitler, and while he is difficult and unfriendly to the west, he is not the master of a great military machine, and while we deal with him, we can keep our composure. We must not become the victim of our old stereotypes, seeing all big international events in terms of "Munich" or "Yalta" or "Pearl Harbor," and therefore never seeing clearly and freshly the events themselves as in fact they are.

Trial Awaits 92 Charged With South Africa Treason

Pretoria, South Africa — The South African government will bring to trial next week 92 persons who, it charges, have been trying to convert South Africa into a communist people's republic.

The defendants claim they were only seeking an end to the government's policy of apartheid — white supremacy and strict segregation.

The 92, including African and Indian political leaders, will go on trial here Aug. 1 before a special court of three judges. The charge, high treason, could bring hanging.

The 92 suspects listened to more than two million words of testimony during a year long preliminary hearing which ended in January. They were rounded up Dec. 4, 1956. The preliminary hearing is a public weighing of evidence such as takes place during an American grand jury hearing.

A defense fund, which has gathered money from many parts of the world, will provide lunches and nine attorneys for the defendants.

The prosecution will be headed by Oswald Pirow, a former minister of justice. During World war II he led a fighting organization known as The Order.

Pirow will attempt to prove that the defendants, through speeches at meetings and by other means sought to overthrow the elected government of South Africa and set up a government modeled after communism's peoples republics.

Msgr. Sprangers Will Observe 60th Jubilee

84-Year-Old Priest to Give Thanksgiving Friday

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. John J. Sprangers, 84, now retired and a resident of St. Elizabeth hospital, will observe his 60th anniversary in the priesthood Friday.

The observance will be a quiet one. The priest, who has held many parish posts in the Catholic diocese of Green Bay, will offer a mass of thanksgiving Friday morning in the hospital chapel.

Msgr. J. J. Sprangers

A high mass also will be said in his honor at 7:50 that morning at St. John church, Little Chute, to which Father Sprangers has been invited. The monsignor was ordained July 25, 1898, in Innsbruck, Austria, and the observance of a 60th anniversary is said to be a rare event among priests.

Despite his age, the priest still leads an active life, offers mass every day and drives his own car.

Retired in 1956 Father Sprangers retired from the active ministry and from his post as pastor of the Little Chute church in January.

Thomson to Talk At Dedication of Meyer Memorial

Gov. Vernon Thomson will be the principal speaker at the E. A. Meyer memorial dedication Sunday at Peshtigo.

The memorial dedication is the conclusion of the efforts of union officials and employees of Badger Paper Mills, Inc., to honor the founder and former president of the company, who died in February.

The memorial is 40 inches high with three 8-foot wings representing Meyer, management and labor. It has been erected in Triangle park in Peshtigo.

Other speakers will be Charles Heymanns, regional director of AFL-CIO, and Peshtigo Mayor Dean Blair. Mrs. Meyer will accept the memorial.

State Commission Postpones Hearings

Public service commission hearings will be postponed from Aug. 5 to Aug. 12 at the Brown county courthouse in Green Bay for Charles Gehl, route 1, Menasha, and Robert Geiger, route 2, Brillion.

Public hearings set for 11 o'clock July 31 at the Barron county courthouse include Van Bosten brothers, route 1, Oneida, for having fresh vegetables within a 35-mile radius of Seymour for Seymour Canning company, and Riesterer and Schnell, Inc., route 4, Chilton, for hauling fresh vegetables within a 55-mile radius of Chilton for Chilton Canning company.

A contract motor carrier license was approved without hearing for Dennis Long, Neenah, for Long's Milk service.

He served the church more than 40 years, was appointed dean of the Outagamie deanery in 1930, became a member of the board of diocesan consultors and remained on the board after his retirement.

He was appointed a domestic prelate with the title of Rt. Rev. Msgr. by Pope Pius XII on Dec. 13, 1945.

The monsignor was born Sept. 19, 1873, in the township of Holland, Sheboygan county, and received his classical education at St. Francis seminary, Milwaukee, and St. John seminary, Collegeville, Minn. He later was assigned to studies at Innsbruck seminary, Austria, where he was ordained.

Before receiving his Little Chute appointment, Father Sprangers served as secretary to the bishop, as pastor of St. Mary church, Brillion, as pastor of St. Paul church, Wrightstown, and as chaplain for St. Joseph orphanage and the state reformatory, Green Bay.

$288,065 Left St. Mary Church, Cemetery

Final Accounting Shows Joseph T. McCarthy Estate Totaled $378,652; Mostly in Stock

The late Joseph T. McCarthy, who died at 81 in June, 1957, at Aurora, Ill., left $288,065 to be evenly divided between St. Mary Catholic school and St. Mary Cemetery association.

A final accounting filed Tuesday before County Judge Stanley A. Staidl, showed McCarthy, cousin of the late Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, left a gross estate of $378,652. Main asset was 2,500 shares of Zwick-Knitting Mills, valued at $202,500.

Deduction of $21,487 for administrative expenses and taxes left $357,165 to be distributed. Administrative expenses were $19,002; state inheritance taxes, $5,124; and federal estate taxes $473.

McCarthy, a bachelor, also left $69,303 to relatives, friends and other Catholic charities.

Move Research Pilot Plant

Improved Facilities Nearing Completion At Sulphite League

Improved facilities for research on utilizing spent sulphite liquor and abating stream pollution are nearing completion at the Sulphite Pulp Manufacturers' Research league's quarters on the campus of the Institute of Paper Chemistry.

League personnel are moving a pilot plant into the unit operations area at the east end of the new south research building. The move will put all the league's research equipment in one place for the first time.

Moved from the old pilot plant site adjacent to Consolidated Water Power and Paper company's Interlake mill are the fermenter, centrifuges and strippers used to perfect the torula yeast process which utilizes the sugars from the spent liquor.

Also relocated is the first reversible-flow evaporator in the United States, which concentrates spent liquor to produce lignin by-products and industrial fuel. Five other pilot plants also are involved in the relocation.

Police Seek 13-Year-Old For $30 Theft

Police are seeking the 13-year-old son of a Nichols family who has been missing since July 18 and who has been implicated in the theft of $30 from a town of Cicero farmer. The missing boy's trail was picked up when Carl Trams, route 1, Black Creek, reported the theft. He said the boy worked for him, starting Monday.

About 11 o'clock Wednesday morning Trams surprised the boy going through a purse, and the boy bolted with the cash, Trams said.

According to the sheriff's office, the boy was reported to have purchased some cookies at Pierre's store in Leeman after the theft and Wednesday afternoon stopped at Jarko's Bar, four miles south of Leeman, for a glass of water.

He told the tavernkeeper his name was John Mansfield and that he was working on a farm near Shiocton. A woman in Shiocton reported to the sheriff she had seen a boy answering his description in the village Wednesday night.

Outagamie county sheriff's men are searching the wooded area in the Nichols-Leeman area.

Hospital Begins Jubilee Plans

60th Anniversary of Institution's Founding Will be Observed

Employees Miss Company Goal, Still Get Party

About 1,100 people ate more than 700 pounds of fish at a Miller Electric Manufacturing company "good try" fish fry at Telulah park Wednesday night. The fish fry was given for employees and their families by company president Niels C. Miller after a company incentive goal was missed by a few percentage points.

Employees' salaries are based on the quality and quantity of machines manufactured, and Miller had promised a company party if the goal he set was made.

Anthony Harrant, executive vice president, was in charge of the fish fry.

New Iraqi Regime Not Pro-Communist

Flatly by Revolutionary Chiefs

BY TALBOT PATRICK

Baghdad —(A)—Iraq's new revolutionary government, by actions even more convincingly than by words, has shown that it is not pro-communist.

The first day of the revolt, Iraqi newspapermen told me repeatedly later, communist leaders proposed to the army officers leading the rebellion that a national guard or militia be formed to help in possible defense of the new government. The proposal, I was told, was turned down flat.

During the first two days of the revolution, communist and anti-western slogans were repainted on many walls and houses. Signs were put on the front of British-owned stores and firms: "Don't buy from foreigners."

By the third day, the army officers who lead the revolution were bringing into the government, as cabinet ministers and Talbot Patrick, editor-publisher of the Rock Hill, S. C., Evening Herald, arrived in Baghdad two days before the July 14 revolution overthrew the monarchy. Here is his report on the politics of the new revolutionary government, written for the Associated Press.

In other important positions, mature men of known ability and recognized position. Most of them had records of opposition to the former regime.

Then the army issued an order that anybody caught painting up communist slogans would be court-martialed. Under army directions, the red paint of the communist slogans was blanked out with green paint.

Censors in newspaper offices blanked out from the reports and editorials they read all pet words and phrases of the communist line, according to Iraqi newspaper acquaintances.

Although there now is the censorship of newspapers, local newspapermen look forward to a time when the new government feels more safely established. They hope then for more freedom than under the royal regime.

Until the revolution, every newspaper appeared only under license issued by the police. Cancellation of a license or suspension for a specified period because of something displeasing to the authorities was only too common in past years.

Since the revolution, one newspaper favorable to the former government has been suspended by government order. Using its equipment, a new paper under different ownership and named "The Republic, now appears.

Newsman Take Risks
One newspaperman told me that he was in effect putting his head in a noose—if the revolution should fail—by writing for the issue then in preparation that the revolt meant the coming of freedom for the people of Iraq.

What was said to me repeatedly in different ways was pointed up by the comment of one man who drove me by the burned-out British embassy:

"That's where this country was ruled from for 38 years."

He referred, of course, to British influence in Iraq. After the Arabs had been promised freedom for helping the British in World War I against the Turks, who had ruled them for 400 years, British mandates were set up for Iraq (Mesopotamia) and Palestine, and French mandates for Lebanon and Syria.

Won't Join UAR

Before the mandate over Iraq ended in 1932, the British helped install as rulers of Iraq members of the Hashemite princely family from Hejaz (Arabia). The Hashemite rulers and the cabinets and government departments which ran the country for them naturally were considered sensitive to British thinking and wishes.

Iraqis who were interested and sympathetic observers of the new revolutionary government said the regime definitely does not intend that Iraq become a part of the United Arab Republic of Egypt and Syria.

They feel their country can go ahead faster if it uses all its oil revenue for improvements within the country rather than if it shares the money.

Nevertheless there is a strong conviction that eventually there will be a single Arab nation, but not one dominated by Egypt, as the U.A.R. is.

"Egypt is not Arab," said one Iraqi, referring to the fact that Egypt is not part of the Arab peninsula. "Nasser himself is an Arab and he knows the truth of what we say, even though at this time he talks so much about Egypt being an Arab nation."

"If this revolution should fail," said another Iraqi, "there will be another and another and another. We have had upsets in the past, fights against the British. If this fails, we'll keep on until we win freedom."

"And, in the same way, eventually there will be one Arab nation. The western nations would be wise to recognize this, we don't want to be forced to the east, but if the west is against us, we will be forced to the east."

Lost Parakeet Talks His Way Back Home

Kansas City—(A)—Jerry is a parakeet who talks. He also flies.

Usually he gives with the standard parakeet palaver: "Pretty bird." "I love you, Jerry," and so on. His flying ordinarily is equally confined—to his cage or room.

A week ago Monday Jerry took off from his home with Mr. and Mrs. William Neal of Kansas City. He wound up on Thursday at a grain company in Shawnee, Kan., 25 miles away.

Pretty soon Jerry started talking—the "Pretty bird" routine, again.

"Call Mary Neal. Jackson 3-4312."

Jerry is home with Mrs. Neal again.

The story was told by Mrs. Neal and confirmed by the Bishops.

Jerry wouldn't talk to a reporter.

Cantaloupe Versatile For Summer Meals

No food symbolizes the sunshine season more delightfully than the cantaloupe with its golden-fleshed sweetness and summer-fresh fragrance. Because this mellow melon is so versatile, it can be all things to all homemakers — from time saver to praise-winner. The chilled half is a no-trouble-to-fix-meal starter, or dessert—always welcome because it is so flavor-complete. But the cantaloupe also possesses gracious blending abilities which the clever cook can utilize to win herself fame for delicious, out-of-the-ordinary dishes.

Refreshing Ideas!

Borden's LEMONADE AND ORANGE DRINK

For example, wedges of juicy, icicle-cold fresh cantaloupe added to slices of salami and tomatoes give the antipasto tray a continental charm reminiscent of Italy's famous prosciutto ham appetizer.

Fresh cantaloupe rings encircling mounds of crab meat salad form a flavor and texture combination as elegant as it is delicious. Crushed luscious ripe fresh cantaloupe meat folded into softened ice cream and whipped cream, dashed with nutmeg, then frozen, creates a wonderful dish.

Cantaloupe Antipasto
Arrange wedges of chilled cantaloupe along both sides of a large serving tray. Fill in center with crisp celery stalks, rolled Italian salami or prosciutto ham slices and tomato slices. Serve with olive oil and vinegar, if desired, as a first course.

Ham Buffet Salad

4 cups diced cooked ham
2 cups diced celery
4 cups fresh cantaloupe balls or diced cantaloupe
1 cup chopped green pepper
2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon ground black pepper
1 teaspoon garlic powder
2 tablespoons fresh lemon juice
6 tablespoons mayonnaise
Lettuce
Fresh cantaloupe balls for garnish

Combine first nine ingredients. Toss lightly. Chill. Serve on lettuce. Garnish with cantaloupe balls.

Cantaloupe Ice Cream
1 quart vanilla ice cream
2 cups mashed ripe fresh cantaloupe
1 teaspoon ground nutmeg
1 cup heavy cream, whipped
1 tablespoon sugar
cantaloupe balls for garnish
Remove ice cream from freezer and let stand at room temperature until soft enough to stir. Blend in cantaloupe and nutmeg. Turn into a freezing tray or a 6-cup mold and freeze.

About one hour before serving, quickly dip mold into hot water and turn out onto serving plate. Place in freezer for a few minutes to harden surface. Frost with whipped cream sweetened with the one tablespoon sugar. Return to freezer until serving time. Garnish with cantaloupe balls.

Snake Slithers Into Rehearsal of Wedding

Shelby, N. C. — When the minister asked if anyone objected to the marriage of Mary Price and Clyde Willis, the maid of honor let out a shriek "Snake!" she yelled and scrambled into the choir loft. She didn't mean the groom, but a real live reptile who had slithered into the church. It was just rehearsal. The wedding went off next day with no snakes and no objections.

For an Antipasto Tray with continental charm reminiscent of Italy's famous prosciutto ham and melon appetizer, add wedges of fresh cantaloupe to slices of salami, tomatoes and stalks of celery.

Picnic Pointers

Canned Products Adapt to Kabobs Made-on-the-Spot

Picnic kabobs with a barbecue bottle dunk make an intriguing combination for an outing in the park or on a boat. The foods are easy to carry besides being mighty tasty.

The kabobs are made from canned pork and beef luncheon loaf. The meat is cut into cubes and alternated with olives, little pearl onions and pickle slices on a skewer.

If the picnic grounds are nearby the kabobs can be prepared at home. However, if you have planned an all day outing, it is better to take the foods with you in the unopened containers. At mealtime, each person can make his own kabob. Canned foods are especially good for carrying because they do not need refrigeration. Since they are fully cooked they need no heating.

The barbecue dunk may be served either hot or cold. Carry the sauce to the picnic spot or the dock in a tall bottle with a tight fitting cover. The bottle should be filled only half full. When the kabobs are dunked, the sauce will come up to coat the meat on all sides without running over the top of the bottle. After dunking, pop each kabob into a buttered bun and pull out the skewer.

Picnic Kabobs
12 ounce can pork and beef luncheon loaf
16 1/2-inch thick slices dill pickle

4 1/2 ounce jar pimiento olives
16 cooked, peeled, whole onions
1 package frank buns

Remove pork and beef luncheon loaf from can. Cut into 24 cubes. For each kabob, place ingredients on a metal skewer in the following order: Meat, pickle slice, onion, pimiento olive, meat, olive, onion pickle slice, and meat. Refrigerate until serving time. Serve with Barbecue Bottle Dunk.

Barbecue Bottle Dunk
1 cup catsup
1/3 cup prepared mustard
2 tablespoons vinegar
1 teaspoon chili powder
Combine all ingredients in a saucepan. Heat. Pour hot dunking sauce into the tall narrow olive jar or a tall iced tea glass. Fill about half full. Holding onto the end of the skewer, dip kabob into sauce until kabob is completely covered. Remove kabob from sauce and place on a frank bun. Pull out skewer. Barbecue Bottle Dunk may also be served cold.

Soldier Hanged For Killing 4

Ft. Leavenworth, Kan. — Abraham Thomas, a 29-year-old soldier who killed four persons at Gersthofen, Germany, was hanged Wednesday at the U. S. Army Disciplinary barracks.

Thomas, a Negro from Montezuma, Ga., had been confined at the barracks for four years while appeals were filed in his behalf. A court martial convicted him of killing Walburga Wenderoth and Anna Wiegel, both of Gersthofen, and two fellow Negro soldiers, Sgt. Lafayette Bennett and Cpl. Edward Peters. The four were shot Feb. 23, 1954.

Thomas was pronounced dead at 12:21 this morning. A barracks spokesman said that Thomas, before mounting the gallows, thanked the prison commandant for the treatment he had received.

Sausage-Egg Sandwich

This seasoned traveler, Sausage-Egg Sandwich, if properly wrapped in moisture vapor-proof material, goes to any picnic. Made with enriched or rye bread, the bread needs no special refrigeration and neither do the hard types of sausages, such as thuringer. Place slices of sausage and hard-cooked eggs between buttered slices of bread.

Fish Creek Players

Memorable Performances in Peninsula's 'Tobacco Road'

BY WILLIAM WEAVER

Fish Creek — If it has ever occurred to you to wonder why "Tobacco Road" remained on Broadway, packing them in year after year, for one of the three longest runs in the history of show business, the answer can be found at The Peninsula Players' Theater in a Garden any night this week and Sunday.

Here is a seldom found opportunity to see one of the truly great plays of the American theater in a production that does it proud. A good-sized first night audience, perhaps expecting as we were a museum piece, a sociological tract and an old war horse burlesqued, sat in rapt attention Wednesday evening. When it was all over we applauded for certain calls long after the house lights had gone up.

This 1933 adaptation by Jack Kirkland of Erskine Caldwell's famous novel is by no means merely a sensational and bawdy romp. It is, of course, bawdy, and we recommend that you leave the children at home. Not so much because one of the finest actresses we have seen. Her reading of Ada will suffer damage from the Lester was unsentimental and raw language and sometimes tragic and real. Maurice Ottinger, less prominent as Lov Bensey, was equally moving. When these two were together on the stage the audience was virtually spellbound.

Lawrence Zerkel and Jeanne Bolan as the half-wit son and the hare-lipped daughter, were both authentic and persuasive. Once again the heaviest assignment, the part of Jeeter Lester, fell to the versatile William Munchow. It was to some extent evident that he finds the quick switch from farce and comedy to heavy drama a little uneasy — he showed some tendency toward capering and playing for laughs, occasionally breaking the mood — but when the chips were down he was a Jeeter of depth and appeal.

Jean Leslie, too, as Sister Bessie exhibited some uneasiness with her role; she lacked somewhat the bed-rock fervency which must be part of the essential and entirely real contradiction of the lady preacher. We would say that both she and Thom Koutsoukas, who played hall. The showing, open to the young man for whose family the Lesters have been sharecropping for generations, could afford to look more deeply into the characters they portray. They'll find something there well worth the search.

Finally, we want to congratulate director James McKenzie set was clearly his best this and designer Kert Lundell on a year and authentic enough to sensitive, tasteful and well-mounted production. Lundell's homesick.

Forced to Retire

The study commission was told, however, that this worked a hardship upon employees who originally planned to work until 65. They now are forced to retire before they have accumulated enough fund credits to provide them with a more satisfactory pension.

The retirement commission took the request under advisement.

Among groups supporting the requested change were the Wisconsin Policemen's Protective association, the Wisconsin State Association of Firefighters and the Wisconsin Paid Firemen's association.

New Billy Graham Film Will be Shown Here

Evangelist Billy Graham's latest motion picture "The Heart Is a Rebel" will be shown at 8 o'clock Friday evening at the Knights of Pythias hall. The showing, open to the public, is sponsored by Evangelical churches of Appleton. The cast includes Etnel Walters, Georgia Lee, John Milford and Jane Withers Music is provided by the 1,500-voice crusade choir.

Pleas Heard on Retirement Age

Policemen, Firemen Protest Lowering to 60 Before Commission

Madison—A—The governor's retirement study commission heard pleas Wednesday for changing the new 60-year compulsory retirement age for policemen and firemen in smaller cities.

The 1957 legislature lowered the age limit from 65 to 60 for firemen and policemen in fourth class cities—those with 10,000 population or less. There are about 140 state cities in this class.

Atty. John Lawton of Madison, representing several public employe groups, said the legislature set the 60 year limit when it increased from 5 to 7 per cent contributions to the Wisconsin retirement fund for firemen and policemen. Lawton said the legislature acted in the belief that the increased contributions would permit the employes to retire at 60 at about half pay.

Agriculture, Foods Demonstrations Set For Seymour School

Home economics and agriculture demonstrations will be given from 9 to 3 o'clock Friday at Seymour High school under the direction of Miss Monica Wodlarshi, home economics teacher.

Demonstrations will be in the categories of foods, non-foods, team demonstrations and agriculture in both junior and senior divisions.

Threatens Wife's Life, Man Sentenced for Disorderly Conduct

Henry Jordan, 32, route 2, West DePere, who Tuesday night threatened to kill his wife, today was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail for disorderly conduct. He will be able to work out of the jail under the Huber law.

Jordan was arrested by county police in the town of Oneida after his car struck a mail box of Mrs. Ervin Cook at the intersection of County Trunks E and EE.

Mrs. Jordan previously went to a friend's home in Seymour and had called police to tell them her husband had threatened to kill her.

Summer Prices Show Little Change;
Chicken Priced at 35 to 45 Cents a Pound

Summer food prices change as little as summer days — the best buys remain on fresh produce counters. The most agreeable protein price continues for chicken, with fryers priced at 35 to 45 cents a pound.

The best fresh fruit buys are cantaloup at two for 39 cents, green grapes at two pounds for 39, Santa Rosa plums at two pounds for 45 and nectarines at 29 cents a pound.

Vegetable Prices
Featured in the vegetable department are green beans at two pounds for 19 cents and 49 sweet corn at 10 ears for 49 cents.

Signs of freshness in corn are plump and full kernels, dark green husks tightly wound at the bottom of the ear, dark brown silks and a green stem; at the point the ear was broken off the stalk.

Other seasonal vegetable prices are cabbage at 7 to 10 cents a pound, carrots at two bunches for 29, home grown pod peas at two pounds for 39, home grown waxed beans at two pounds for 25 and leaf lettuce at two bunches for 15 cents.

Cauliflower is up to 39 cents a head, radishes to 8 to 10 cents a bunch and green peppers to 6 to 10 cents.

Cucumbers remain low at 6 to 10 cents and head lettuce at two pounds for 25 cents.

Most fruit prices haven't changed since last week. Only pears, at 23 to 29 cents a pound, are higher.

More Fruit
Other prices are apricots at two pounds for 29 cents, Bing cherries at 39 a pound, Elberta peaches at two pounds for 29, strawberries at 39 a quart.

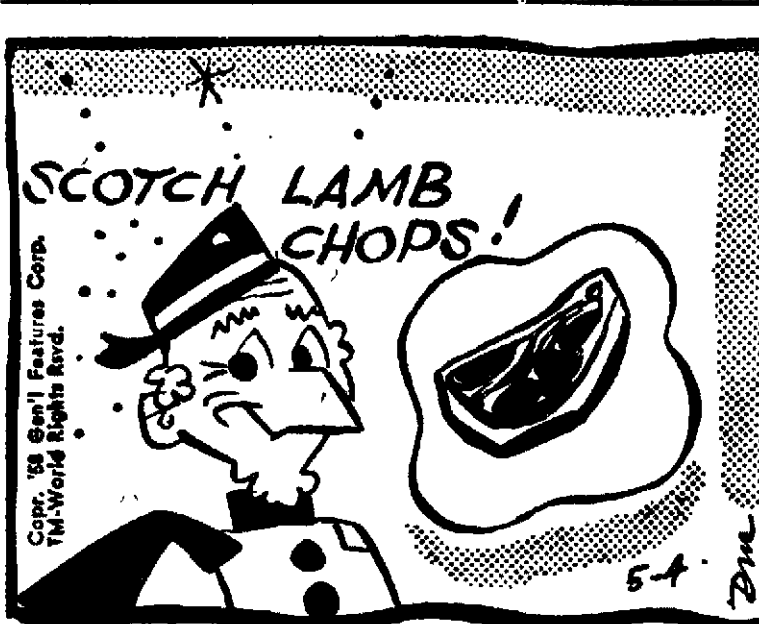

Watermelon remains a buy at 69 to 89 cents a melon. Slightly better meat prices are ground chuck at 69 to 75 cents a pound, rolled rib roast at 79 and boneless rump roast at 79. Large grade-A eggs are down to 51 cents a dozen.

Meats featured for outdoor cooking are bratwurst at 65 to 69 cents a pound, spare ribs at 63, cube steak at 89, round steak at 89, ground round at 83 to 89 and ground beef at 55 to 57.

Other meat prices are boneless beef stew at 69 to 75 cents a pound, chop suey meat at 69 to 85, center cut chuck roast at 65, boneless chuck roast at 79, leg of lamb at 79 and center cut pork chops at 79 to 89.

Meal Planning
When planning your dinner menus this summer do not overlook the great variety of sausage products your meat retailer has on display. It will open up a whole new field of possibilities when deciding on the main course.

Quick Dessert
When you haven't time to make a dessert for supper, serve hot toast and pass the honey pitcher.

For Scotch Lamb Chops

BY FRANK KOHLER
Scotch Lamb Chops are from Angus Law, Aberdeen, Scotland. This is excellent Scottish practice which we like at our house. It will serve four.

1 cup barley.
2 tablespoons drippings (bacon fat).
4 shoulder cut lamb chops, inch thick.
Salt.
1 teaspoon black pepper.
2 beef bouillon cubes.
1 cup boiling water.
1 can (4-ounce) mushrooms, drained.
1 cup minced celery.
1 cup minced onion.
1 No. 303 can tomatoes.
1 teaspoon marjoram.

Simmer the barley in five cups water, tightly covered, until tender (about one hour). Drain and rinse well.

Melt bacon fat (or lard) and brown the chops well on both sides. Pour off the chops with one fat, season with salt and pepper.

Dissolve the bouillon cubes in the boiling water. Combine the bouillon with one teaspoon salt and the remaining ingredients and pour into a buttered 8 by 12-inch baking dish. Place the chops on top and bake one hour and 15 minutes at 300 degrees.

Veal Steaks, Buttermilk Make A Perfect Pair

When one thinks of buttermilk, it's just natural that buttermilk pancakes or biscuits come to mind.

The southern custom of serving honey with these two products is an old one. Now something new has come to light — a new way of using buttermilk — with veal.

These steaks are best prepared by braising. The braising liquid is the buttermilk, of course. Another delightful addition is prepared mustard. A tablespoon of the mustard is equally spread over 4 veal steaks.

Buttermilk Veal Steaks
4 veal shoulder steaks, cut 1 inch thick
3 tablespoons lard
1 1/2 teaspoons paprika
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
1 cup buttermilk

Flour

Brown meat on both sides in lard or drippings. Season with paprika and salt. Spread with prepared mustard.

Add buttermilk, cover tightly and cook slowly for one hour or until tender. Remove meat, thicken liquid with flour for gravy, if desired.

Levants End Dispute; Oscar Returns Home

Beverly Hills, Calif. — Oscar Levant is home again. His wife, June, said Tuesday she has dropped her divorce suit. She added: "Yes, we're together again — in the same house, at any rate." I hope this quarrel doesn't happen again.

Mrs. Levant walked out on Oscar's television show. A violent quarrel followed with Levant leaving home.

Commented the pianist-turned-television actor: "I cannot hold a grudge. I am interested only in getting my way."

Salami Spaghetti New Idea for Summer Eating

It's time to spruce up some of your favorite recipes so they have that fresh summer look! Take spaghetti sauce for example... if you'd like a new idea especially designed for warm weather fare, try substituting salami for ground beef in your favorite spaghetti sauce recipe. Actually cooking time is very short... another thing to think about when preparing meals this summer.

Quick Salami Spaghetti

1 pound salami (cut half into 8 very thin slices and grind or chop other half)

2 tablespoons lard or drippings

1 cup chopped onion

1 cup sliced fresh mushrooms

1 tablespoon flour

1 1/2 cups tomato juice

1 1/2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce

1/2 teaspoon salt

1/2 teaspoon pepper

2 tablespoons minced parsley

1 green pepper, chopped

6 to 8 ounces spaghetti

Brown onion and mushrooms lightly in lard or drippings. Blend in flour, add chopped salami.

Add tomato juice, water and seasonings. Simmer 25 minutes.

Add parsley and green pepper and simmer five minutes longer.

Cook spaghetti in boiling, salted water. To serve, make a ring of cooked spaghetti on chop plate, then make ring of sliced salami on spaghetti. Pour sauce in center.

Calorie Counters

When you begin carefully counting your calories because you're on a reducing diet, remember that skipping meals is just as bad as overeating.

One of the most important nutrients needed in the diet when reducing is protein. Three ounces of cooked lean meat is an adequate amount for a lunch menu... four ounces for the dinner menu.

Lemonade Goes Fancy Mixed With Ice Cream, Soda Water

Lemonade today has a hundred and one variations—all refreshing and a taste treat. The lemon juice used as a base also comes in variety—all available in Fox Cities markets—the fresh fruit, frozen concentrate, canned or bottled products.

Here are three drinks, one with a banana blend, two with carbonated beverage and ice cream.

Lemonog Smoothie

1 cup milk

3 tablespoons frozen concentrate for lemonade

1 medium-sized banana

1 cup cracked ice

Put milk in blender container, add remaining ingredients. Blend at high speed for one to two minutes. One-half cup of ice cream added to the Smoothie makes a richer drink. Makes two servings.

Pink Lemonade Soda

1/2 cup fresh lemon juice

1/2 cup sugar

1/2 teaspoon grated lemon peel

4 cups carbonated water

Strawberry Ice Cream

Combine lemon juice, sugar and peel. Allow to stand 15 to 20 minutes. Combine two tablespoons lemonade base and two

Durable Sales Slump Eases, Agency Asserts

Appraisal Follows Report of Upward Tilt in Economy

Washington — The commerce department said Tuesday night the recession slump in sales of autos, appliances and other consumer durables seems to have been substantially arrested.

This appraisal came on the heels of a report by President Eisenhower's economic advisers that the national economy tilted upward in the April-June period for the first time in nearly a year.

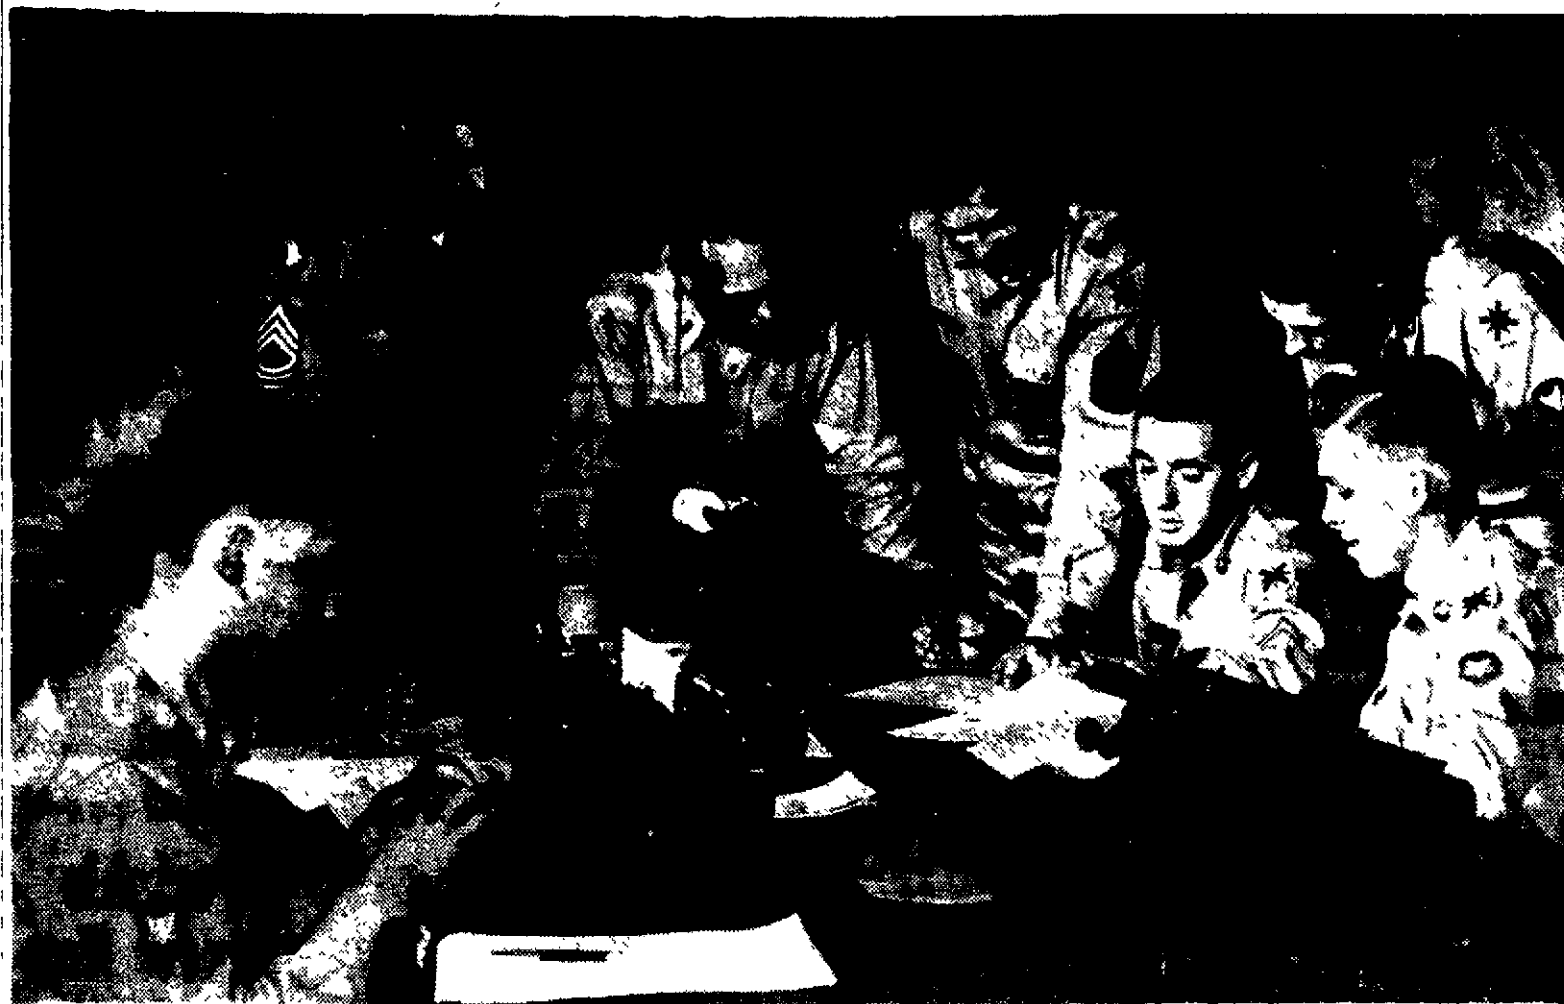

The economists reported, however, that consumer purchases of durables continued to slump during the three months period.

Looking at just the June figures, the commerce department said:

"The decline in outlays for consumer durables, which constituted the major area of recent weakness in consumers' buying, appeared to have been substantially arrested."

Commerce, in its monthly survey of current business, said June produced additional evidence of firmer business conditions.

House Approves Bill for Capital Building Plan

Estimate Eventual Cost at Quarter of A Billion Dollars

BY FRANCES McKUSICK
Post-Crescent Washington Bureau

Washington — The house has passed, with little fanfare, an appropriations bill for the fiscal year which started July 1 to help finance what eventually will become an estimated quarter of a billion dollar building program extravaganza for the capital.

Even though members of the house have struggled along for years with two office buildings and the reconvered George Washington Inn, across the street from the new house of office building, there was little opposition to the construction of a new and third office building to cost an estimated $64 million.

Members who are usually economy-minded on federal spending in general had few objections to adding 3-room and bath suites, de luxe committee rooms, cafeterias, etc., for themselves.

House Hue and Cry

But when the house voted to acquire and reconstruct the Congressional hotel, across the street from the Old House office building, there was a hue and cry set up by some of the members that is still echoing in the house.

This acquisition and improvement of the Congressional hotel, a member of the Knott chain, was made to the tune of nearly $4 million and described by one member as "the $4 million lace panties."

Economy, oddly enough, was not the biggest argument against this expenditure. It was the fact that about 40 members would be deprived of their "home away from home."

The Congressional hotel, completely air conditioned and less than ten years old, is the most convenient lodging place congressmen have. A congressman, for instance, can walk to work in less than five minutes from this hotel.

Brief Siestas

Then, too, if a congressman is tired from the press of official duties, he can go home to the hotel for a brief siesta and still get to the house floor for a roll-call vote, if his secretary calls him the minute the bells begin to ring.

This would be virtually impossible from any other hotel in Washington.

Furthermore, the Congressional hotel has the only eating place near the house side of the capitol building where table cloths and linen napkins are used. It is a convenient place to take "special" constituents who like the niceties of life with their dry martinis for lunch.

Cocktail Lounge

The hotel also has a small, cozy, comfortable, dimly lighted cocktail lounge that lends itself nicely to tired statesmen, their office staffs and guests for a long, slow drink after a hard day.

Small banquet rooms are available for special "hill" groups for cocktail parties, receptions and dinners.

All these conveniences will be gone after the adjournment of congress this year, when renovations start on the hotel to convert it, too, into 3-room and bath suites for the members.

According to the office of the architect of the capitol, cost of acquiring the hotel property itself was $1,680,000, and cost of its reconversion is $2,225,000.

One member of the house appropriations committee, in objecting to the Congressional hotel seizure, complained that "if this sort of thing continues, there won't be a place within miles of the capitol where a member can take his constituents for a decent meal or drink."

K-C Stockholders Meeting Planned

Annual Session Aug. 26 to be At Company Sales Center

Neenah — Notices have been mailed to Kimberly-Clark corporation stockholders announcing the annual stockholders meeting for Aug. 26 at the sales promotion center here.

In reviewing the last fiscal year stockholders were informed that as of April 30, the end of the last fiscal year, the company had 12,987 hourly paid employees and 4,405 salaried employees, an increase of 267 hourly paid and 202 salaried workers over that the beginning of the year.

The company's pension and group insurance programs were continued with contributions to the various pension funds totaling $3,123,583. At the end of the year there was in effect $151,542,000 in group insurance at a cost to the corporation of $441,540 per year.

Development of hourly paid employees through the use of trade schools, correspondence courses and other media was stressed and the company is paying half of the correspondence fee in a home - study course upon the completion of that course by the employee. Selected employees in the management group were afforded executive training courses in various colleges and universities.

In a statement to stockholders, John R. Kimberly, president and board chairman, declared "we are entering a new fiscal year with the general economy of the country substantially depressed from the levels of the past several years."

"Economy Depressed" "While there are few indices pointing towards an appreciable improvement in the immediate future, we have complete faith in the long-term prospects of our industry and the fundamental soundness of our economy. Current forecasts justify and necessitate the immediate expansion programs," he continued.

"These programs should not require any additional long-term financing by the corporation or its Canadian subsidiaries."

The company president pointed out that in England, France, Mexico, Australia and South Africa, the subsidiaries had showed satisfactory increases in sales and that the west German associate, started converting Kleenex tissues last December.

"Results of these companies justify plans for their conservative expansion as markets develop. Presently the addition of another cellulose wadding machine by the English company and an initial wadding machine in South Africa are contemplated for the coming year," he cited. "Current operating forecasts indicate these of American Can company, and expansions can be financed without any major advances from the parent company."

New Kind of Paper Dryer, Born in Twin Cities, to Go Into 10th Plant

Gardner Machine Produced Only by Overly Company

Neenah — An entirely new kind of paper drying machine, designed and produced in the Twin Cities, will be in operation in 10 paper plants across the country by next month.

The machine is the Gardner dryer, which is built only by Overly's Inc., Neenah sheet metal fabricating firm.

Eight such machines now are in operation. Two more are to be shipped before the end of this month, and orders from as far away as Milan, Italy, are awaiting production.

The machine, which employs a new concept of forced air drying, was developed here by Thomas A. Gardner, an engineer for the Marathon division of American Can company, and William F. Overly, vice president of Overly's.

Tested at Gilbert's The first experimental model of the giant machine was built about two years ago and was tested at Gilbert Paper company in Menasha. The first large number of nozzles production model was installed at the Rothschild plant of off the paper machine, coater or Marathon division of American press, and an air conditioning Can company about a year ago.

Since then dryers have been the minute nozzles (15 thousandths of an inch) at terrific company, Marathon plants at speed and high temperature. Oswego, N.Y., and Naheola, The forced air disturbs the Al., Oxford Paper company at Rumford, Me., East Texas Pulp and Paper company in Evadale, Tex., and Northwest Paper company in Cloquet, Minn.

A Gardner dryer also is in operation in the experimental laboratory of Time, Inc., at Springdale, Conn. Machines are now being finished for the Meade corporation at Kingston Tenn., and the Michigan Carton company at Kalamazoo, Mich.

A paper explaining the technical aspects of the machine for the paper industry will be presented at next week's meeting of the Technical Association of the Pulp and Paper Industry (TAPPI) in Portland, Ore., by Gardner, Rice Barton corporation will be sales representatives of the product.

The Gardner dryer is used in all three major paper operations, namely, primary drying of paper, drying coated paper, and drying ink and glue.

Dryer, Air Conditioner The dryer is essentially composed of a drying unit containing a large number of nozzles held close to the web coming off the paper machine, coater or Marathon division of American press, and an air conditioning system. ## Man, 21, Faces Assault Count

48-Year-Old Woman;
Bond Set at $1,000

Post-Crescent Oshkosh Bureau

Oshkosh — Clifford Bechard, 21, 733 W. Spencer street, Appleton, today was charged with assault with intent to rape. Preliminary hearing was set for 3 o'clock next Monday afternoon by Municipal Judge S. J. Luchsinger. Bond was set at $1,000.

Bechard was arrested by Appleton police Wednesday afternoon 18 minutes after the warrant for his arrest was issued. Bechard is charged with attacking a 48-year old Appleton woman on County Trunk P near St. John cemetery at 10:30 Tuesday night. The attack was stopped by Norman J. Kohl, 52, route 2, Appleton, when he investigated the woman's screams as he drove by the cemetery.

Oshkosh Man Held On Morals Charge

Post-Crescent Oshkosh Bureau

Oshkosh — Wilbur Allen, 31, route 3, Oshkosh, was arraigned before Municipal Judge S. J. Luchsinger this morning on a charge of assault with intent to rape of a 22-year-old Oshkosh woman. Preliminary examination was set for 1:30 Friday afternoon, Aug. 1, and he was jailed in default of $1,000 bond.

Allen was arrested at his farm home after Oshkosh police received a call from the woman at 4:41 Wednesday afternoon. She said he had walked into her apartment, ordered another girl to leave and then locked the door. He was unsuccessful in his attempt to rape, police said.

1,186 Crafts Travel Along Menasha Canal

Lock-Master Reports 800 Boats in July, Cites Decline in Commercial Traffic

Menasha — Menasha lock-tenders have availed their services 1,186 times to date this season and have allowed over 800 boats to pass through the locks already in the month of July alone.

Harry Wilson, lockmaster since 1952 and locktender since 1935, says that the summer has been an active one. For the last four Sundays over 100 boats passed through the locks during each of the days.

Reminiscing over past years Wilson states that commercial crafts currently utilizing the lock facilities are far reduced in number in comparison with the days when Cook and Brown company hauled three tugs of coal from Green Bay to Oshkosh daily. Now only one tugder the direction of the United States army of engineers, early hours of each morning, which operates and maintains the 17 locks and ten dams rying equipment for construction companies supply the other Bay on the Fox River. Another factor involved in the extension of this maintenance in addition to cut in coal barge traffic is because many of the Fox Cities industries that once used the coal and had a storage pile on adjacent land have been forced to expand, using the land for building sites. They now bring the fuel in by railway or trucking.

Pleasure Boats Increase

What is lacking in commercial traffic has been made up, amply, in the tremendous increase of pleasure crafts that use the locks for traveling on the Fox River. Records show that in June, 1956, there were 357 lockages, allowing 491 boats to pass through. This year in work.

India Youth To be Guest at Clayton Farm

Eugene Anderson Host to Exchange Student Aug. 3 to 20

Oshkosh — An international farm youth exchange student from Punjab, India, will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Anderson, town of Clayton, from Aug. 3 to 20, according to Clarence Westfall, county 4-H director. He is Nachattar Singh Grewal.

The exchange student is the manager of an agricultural and poultry farm in India and will be available for a limited number of speaking engagements. He is to speak at the Wednesday afternoon. There were no Three 4-H club meeting at the Algoma town hall Aug. 11 and members of 4-H clubs in the southern part of the county are being invited to that meeting. On Aug. 12 he will speak to the Winchester 4-H club at Grace Lutheran church and 4-H 21, route 2, Neenah, and members from the northern part A. Stoegebauer, 39, Oshkosh end of the county are being invited to this meeting.

Six members of Winnebago county 4-H club have submitted entries for the dairy exhibit at the Wisconsin State fair on Aug. 16 to 18 in West Allis. They are Peter Roycraft, Omro, Richard Smith, route 2, Neenah, Karen Winkenwerder, route 1, Neenah, Judy and Harley Whittemarsh, Omro and Walter Ellis, Waukau.

This group has scheduled a meeting at 8 o'clock Monday evening, Aug. 4, at the court house at which time details of their exhibit will be discussed.

Two County Accidents Reported; No Injuries

Oshkosh — Two accidents involving Fox Cities area drivers were reported in Winnebago county Wednesday.

A car driven by Donald C. Merrill, 49, Shiocton, and a truck operated by Louis F. Roth, 35, route 1, Neenah, collided on County Highway A at Adella Beach at 1:56 Wednesday afternoon. There were no injuries. The truck was struck as it made a right turn into a driveway.

Involved in a mishap on Highway 10 in the town of Menasha at 9:35 Wednesday morning was Ralph H. Grundy, Grace Lutheran church and 4-H 21, route 2, Neenah, and members from the northern part A. Stoegebauer, 39, Oshkosh

Presidential Administrative Assistant Howard Pyle, left, chats with G. Dewey Creasman, president of American Baptist men, at the national Baptist laymen's conference at Green Lake Wednesday night. Church Needed More Today Than Any Time in History

Green Lake — The church is needed more today than at any time in its history, Howard Pyle, administrative assistant to President Eisenhower and former 2-term governor of Arizona, told the National Baptist Laymen's conference at the American Baptist assembly here Wednesday night.

Pyle, who served as a war correspondent in World War II and did the radio broadcast of the signing of the Japanese peace treaty from the battleship Missouri, told his audience that President Eisenhower opens each one of his cabinet meetings by bowing his head into his hands and calling for a few moments of silent prayer.

"It's an inspiring thing to see that and a thrill that never ceases to engage me," Pyle, who sits in at all of the cabinet sessions, declared in telling how prayer is the first order of business at each meeting of the nation's top leaders.

To those who feel that science is the key to the country's salvation, the President's administrative assistant refuted that Christianity is the salvation both in this world and the next.

No World Moral Code

The problem around the world today is that there is no such thing as a world code of ethics, a world-wide moral code. What are acceptable practices in the Far East or in the Middle East are not so regarded in the West. What is condoned in the West is abhorred by the Far East, he stressed.

"To get away with manipulating the truth is considered respectable in some areas, and I do not say this disrespectfully. Yet these areas are supposed to live together in harmony.

"Today we wonder why we cannot have peace in this world. We have to gain a basis for a moral understanding across the world if we are to sit down at the table and write a lasting peace," Pyle emphasized.

"You may look to the government for this but those of us in the government feel the church is equally responsible. We have twin problems — the salvation in this world and the next and creating an atmosphere where people can live in peace.

"We are teammates in the same gignatic task. Pray as one for peace. We are not working for us alone but for a world that needs to find God anew."

Pyle told the Baptist laymen that the church, with a new sense of dimension and appreciation, needs to expand into a militant power, that which we know as Christianity. "I see the church as a moving power and never needed in all history like it is needed today."

God has an atomic power within us, our soul, that must be used against the issues of our time, that must be harnessed and moved and generated into action, Pyle said as he urged the Baptist laymen "to find God anew through dedicated service and the dedicated conviction that God is the answer to most of the perplexing problems of our time."

Gas Main Fire

Oshkosh — The fire department was dispatched to extinguish a gas main fire in front of 1904 Doty street Wednesday afternoon. An underground broken gas pipe was found burning the grass on the terrace. There was no damage.

K-C Women to Have Outing At Shawano

Neenah — The annual outing for the Kimberly-Clark corporation women employees will be held Aug. 2 at the Shawano Lake Country club. Golfing will begin at 1 o'clock with a dinner served at 6:30. Other activities during the afternoon will include horseback riding, cards and games. Prizes will be awarded following the dinner. Joan Art is serving as general chairman of the event. Julie Clark is heading the decorations committee and Viny Shea is chairman of the golf committee. Keith Ann Nelson is entertainment chairman and chairman of the ticket committee is Milly Jape.

'Do-It-Yourself' Pair Makes Portable Vacation Home

Neenah — Creative use of leisure time by a Neenah couple has resulted in a portable vacation home as well as the satisfaction and deserving pride gained from a "do-it-yourself" project.

After about six weeks of work remodeling a school bus, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph LaCrosse, 446 E. Columbian avenue, now join the growing exodus of campers and nature enthusiasts to week-end retreats at lakes and state parks in their home-on-wheels.

Designed to meet their own needs and to best utilize the available space, the converted bus is divided into two areas, a bedroom and kitchen-living room combination, by means of partitions and a plastic draw curtain. Closet space was built into the bedroom area by Mr. LaCrosse, who did all of the carpentry work. Room was provided for a double bed and space allowed for a built-in dressing table to cover the rise of the rear wheel.

Built-in cabinets, a sink, stove and ice box line one wall of the outer room. Multi-colored linoleum matching the floor covering was used for the cupboard tops and shelves. "Every inch of space counts," explained Mrs. LaCrosse who did the seamstress work including the blue floral-patterned curtains.

Breakfast Nook

Two of the original bus seats upholstered in bright red leather face a collapsible table to form a breakfast nook on the other wall. Further evidence of the planners' ingenuity is seen in the bench arrangement which can be transformed into another bed. Plastic screens, painted to match the aqua shade of the bus, allows for cross-ventilation.

The couple and their two pets, a dog, "Little Lassie," and a canary, "Pete," made their initial trip with the bus over the Memorial Day holidays to Lake Michigan. Other lakes have been favorite sites for succeeding trips as both

Plan Leisurely, Light Lunches During Summer

Post-Crescent Oshkosh Bureau

Oshkosh — Leisurely lunches have long been a European custom. American housewives might begin to copy this continental gracious way of living to the extent of making the lunch hour more than just a quick pause for eating.

Menu variety is more in demand during the summer months with children on vacation from school. A variety of small sandwiches, made with a long, narrow loaf of rye bread, sliced very thin and filled with deviled ham, tuna fish, egg salad, luncheon meat or lettuce and tomato makes an appealing light luncheon, suggests Miss Lois Klusmeyer, county home agent.

A salad made by filling cantaloupe circles with seedless grapes, cherries and raspberries and rimmed with fluffy lettuce, goes well with the sandwiches. Milk and cookies complete the meal.

Cooking Hints Are Suggested By Home Agent

Oshkosh — Homemakers can add vitamin C to gelatin salads by making them with citrus juices. Try grapefruit juice with nuts and pineapple or orange juice with chopped celery and green pepper, suggests Miss Lois Klusmeyer, county home agent.

A quick way to cook vegetables is to shred or slice thinly into a wide, flat-bottom pan in which a couple of tablespoons of fat has been melted. Season

Mr. and Mrs. LaCrosse are fishing enthusiasts. Plans are currently being made for a longer trek, to San Diego, Cal., where they will visit relatives during the Christmas season.

Since only a small amount of work remains to be done, installing a space heater, pressure system and building the dressing table, Mr. LaCrosse is already engaged in another project, designing a similar converted bus for a friend.

Name Chairmen for WSWS Fall Bazaar

Neenah — The Fall supper and bazaar of the Women's Society of World service of the First Evangelical United Brethren church was planned at a meeting Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Ronald Hall, 133 John street. Tentative date for the annual event is set for Nov. 12.

At their Wednesday evening meeting at Riverside park the society heard Mrs. J. K. Babbitt report on the recent meeting at Camp Lucerne where she was the official delegate.

Committee members included Mrs. E. W. Schultz and Mrs. Charles Erickson and Oct. 15 was named as the society's annual guest night for which a speaker is planned.

It was also announced the district WSWS meeting will be held at Forest Junction from Aug. 10 to 15.

WCOF Picks Chairmen for Picnic Event

Menasha — The Women's Catholic Order of Foresters of St. Mary Catholic church met Wednesday evening and completed plans for the Juvenile Foresters picnic Aug. 4 at Jefferson park.

The program committee will be Mrs. Harry Schnoor, Mrs. Ray Otto and Miss Dorothy Stulp. Swimming at 2 o'clock will begin the event, followed by games and a wiener roast.

Prize winners at Wednesday's meeting were Mrs. Frank Bayer, Miss Stulp, Mrs. Gus Fahrenkrug, Mrs. A. Seithammer, Mrs. Frank Zelniske, Miss Emma Liebhauser, Mrs. Frank Brehm and Mrs. Harry Schnoor. On the refreshment committee were Mrs. Otto, Mrs. Cyril Hyland and Miss Bernice Resch. Aug. 27 was named as the date for the next meeting.

Golfers Finish Fifth Round Of Tournament

Neenah — The fifth round of the June Handicap tournament of the women's division of Ridgeway Country club was completed Tuesday. Mrs. Harley Loker, tournament chairman, announced Mrs. J. F. Verrier defeated Mrs. D. C. Wamsley and Mrs. Martin Thyssen was the winner in the match with Mrs. Donald Smith.

Mrs. Verrier will play Miss Joan Hengsteler at 4:30 this afternoon for the championship in the first flight. Mrs. Martin Thyssen will play Mrs. Jack Bogrand in the second flight. The championship tournament will begin Aug. 5.

Papers Filed In 3 Estates From Twin Cities

Property of Late
Sail Designer Valued
At Over $44,000

Post-Crescent Oshkosh Bureau
Oshkosh — Values of the estates of three Twin City men were indicated in papers filed this week with County Judge Herbert J. Mueller.

The estate of the late Walter W. Roller, route 1, Neenah, designer of a spinnaker type of sail, was placed at $11,000 in real estate and $33,732 in personal property, according to an inventory filed Tuesday.

An inheritance tax order in the estate of the late John A. Ten Eyck, town of Menasha, who died Jan. 1, placed the net value of his estate at $32,508, all of which will be received by his widow.

Valued at $38,632 was the estate of the late John E. Jones of Neenah who died March 30, 1957, according to an inheritance tax notice. The estate was left to his widow, part outright and part in trust.

A petition to probate the estate of the late Louis D. Devens of the town of Vinland, former town chairman and longtime school board member, also was filed with the county judge. It estimated his estate at more than $40,000 and listed the widow, a daughter, Josephine O. Grant, Littleton, Colo., and a son, Alfred, route 4, Oshkosh, as heirs.

Huck Finn Day Slated to Begin With Parade

Recreation Unit
Sets Aug. 9 for Fishing Contest

Menasha — A "Huck Finn Day" featuring a parade and fishing derby will be held from 9:30 until noon on Saturday, Aug. 9. Robert Vanevenhoven, recreation director, announced today.

A parade will start at 9:30 from the Elisha D. Smith Public Library and end at Jefferson park. A police escort will be provided.

Boys marching in the parade will be dressed as Huck Finn and girls as Becky Thatcher. Children eight through 15 years old will take part in the program.

When the children arrive at the park a fishing derby will be conducted, until noon. Hooks will be put on the lines at the park for a safety measure.

Award Eight Prizes
Eight prizes will be awarded. They are for the best Huck Finn costume, heaviest fish, first fish caught, most unusual fish, first pike, first northern, first bass and most fish caught.

Children are to register with their playground leaders for the fishing contest and parade.

Peanut hunt winners at the Seventh street lot-to-let were Mary Lou Keberlein, Pam Block, Judy Koslowski, Steve Noll, Cheryl Tink, and Carolyn McMurray. The event was held on Wednesday.

Tommy Taylor, Jimmy Taylor, and Pam Van Audenhoven won the peanut hunt at the Jefferson lot-to-let.

Post-Crescent Oshkosh Bureau

Oshkosh — A report of boys shooting from a car on Highway 41 and Pendleton street, Neenah, was investigated by Sheriff's officers at 9:45 Monday night but nothing was discovered. They received the report from the Neenah police department.

The Hot Sun Doesn't Seem to bother Chicago and North Western railroad maintenance workers who have improved grade crossings all over Neenah during the last few weeks. The crew is leveling and improving the crossing at E. Wisconsin avenue. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Rail Crossings In Twin Cities Are Improved

Neenah — Chicago and North Western railroad maintenance and repair men are seen throughout the city as they take advantage of the summer weather to make repairs on several crossings. Currently a crew of men is working on the improvement of the E. Wisconsin avenue crossing. They will raise the tracks and level off the area.

Within the last few weeks the railroad has put in automatic crossing devices at Garfield street, N. Commercial street, Water street, E. Forest avenue, and at the E. Wisconsin avenue crossing, thus eliminating the need for flag men. The improvement of street crossings in Menasha has been undertaken by the Milwaukee road. Crews are working at Racine street, Sixth street, and Kenosha street where they are putting in complete new crossings and doing general repair work.

Attend Funeral

Neenah — Mrs. W. O. Nelson and Mrs. M. L. Brandsmark, both of Neenah, are in Peshtigo today attending the funeral of Mrs. Ted Thompson who died Monday evening at Madison General hospital following major surgery. She was the wife of the president of the Thompson Boat Builders covered. They received the company and the daughter of port from the Neenah police department.

Litter, Sign Ordinances to Be Drawn Up

Neenah — An ordinance for bidding people to throw litter on city streets and the revision of an ordinance prohibiting the tacking of signs on public buildings and poles will be drawn up by City Atty. Charles Schaller on the request of Mayor Chester Bell.

Mayor Bell pointed out this morning there has been an increasing amount of litter dumped on streets and if the new ordinance is approved by the council there would be a moderate penalty for such an act. The mayor stated receptacles would have to be placed in suitable spots around the city in which trash can be dumped. An ordinance prohibiting tacking signs on city posts and buildings was passed about 40 years ago but is now out-of-date. Mayor Bell explained. The city attorney has been asked to bring the ordinance up-to-date.

African Missionary

Neenah — African missionary Donald Wahlgren who has been at the Sudan Mission of Nigeria, Africa, since 1950, will lecture on his mission at 7:45 this evening at Our Savior's Lutheran church. Wahlgren is currently spending his furlough year in advanced studies at Wartburg seminary, Dubuque, Iowa.

Three Tennis Meets Scheduled in Neenah

Neenah — Three city tennis tournaments for youngsters are scheduled on Neenah courts Friday morning. The girls 12 and under singles will be played at the Neenah High school courts, the boys 12 and under doubles are slated for Washington park and the junior boys doubles meet will be held at Doty park. All meets will begin at 9 o'clock.

Neenah Citizens are

Not to Burn Trash
Neenah — Citizens were asked today not to burn trash in their backyards by Fire Chief John Zick. He pointed out burnable articles are now picked up and burned at the sewage plant. Burning trash in dry weather creates a fire hazard and it creates a nuisance when fire smolders and causes stench, the chief declared.

Cubs Collect Win

Menasha — Two runs in the third inning sparked the Cubs to a 4-2 win over the Yankees in the Junior Baseball league Wednesday at the Sixth street diamond.

Bill Starr was the winning pitcher and Pete Muntner, the loser. Letter had a single and triple and Simon two singles for the Cubs and Opsahl posted a triple and single for the Yankees.

Menasha 'Rec' Girls Topple Kaukauna 16-3

Deal Losers 1st
Loss in 3 Years;
Smash 5 Homers

Menasha — The Menasha Recreation girls softball team trounced Kaukauna 16-3 at Kaukauna Wednesday night to deal the latter its first defeat in three years.

Shirley Paley was the winning pitcher and Judy Jacobson was charged with the loss. The winner gave up six hits, two walks and struck out eight. The "Rec" made 25 hits. Both teams had five errors.

Betty Gracyalny had four hits for the winners, including a double and homer. Yvonne Labby cracked a double, triple and homer. Jo Smith, Sandy Lornson and Doris Eckstein hit homers and Sandy Lornson also had a double. Catcher Jo Snyder was outstanding defensively for the winners.

The girls will play Neenah Foundry at 8:30 Friday evening at Washington park and day evening at the Memorial building.

Menashans Off to Good Start In Quest of Tourney Awards

Menasha — Menasha Mac players are off to a good start on their way to snaring some of the individual trophies which will be awarded at the close of the district semi-pro tournament here Sunday afternoon.

Semi-final play is scheduled for Saturday night with the Macs meeting Marinette at 7 o'clock and Oshkosh tangling with defending champion Little Chute - Kimberly at 9 o'clock. The winners will collide at 7 o'clock Sunday night for the district title and a berth in the state meet at Milwaukee.

Individual trophies, donated by Fox Cities businesses and industries, will be awarded to the top hitter, best pitcher, best prospect as well as the most valuable player. In addition, an all-tournament team will be chosen.

The Macs' Len Heinbigner leads in the hit parade with a perfect five-for-five in the 15-0 rout of New London. Rog VanderWyst of Little Chute - Kimberly is a close second with three for four. Oshkosh's besta are Paul Moynlan, Bob Miller and Bob Manthey, all of whom posted one hit in three tries.

In the pitching department, Mort Drury stopped New London with two hits. Manthey allowed eight hits against Clintonville and Bob Schmidt of L-C-Kimberly permitted six in six innings against Hortonville. In previous Clintonville tournaments, Drury received both the top pitcher and best prospect awards.

In addition to the individual awards, there will be trophies for the top four teams and for team sportsmanship. There will be no third place game but the semi-final losers will flip a coin to determine the winner. The trophies are the same size.

Indians Register Initial Triumph in Junior League Action

Neenah — The Yankees picked up their ninth win in 12 starts by edging the Tigers 8-7 in a Junior Baseball league game Wednesday at Washington park. The Tigers have a 7-3 slate.

The winners scored three runs in the third inning and four in the fourth while the Tigers had a high of five in the third. Dick Kuehl had three of the winners' seven hits and Hans Christopherson hit a triple.

George Steffensen collected three singles and a double, Tom Meyer three singles and Mory Handler a pair of one basers for the Tigers.

The Indians picked up their first Junior league win after eight setbacks by topping the White Sox 5-2 behind Tom Ebbens' five-hitter. The losers have a 4-7 slate.

Score 4 in First

The winners scored all of their runs in the first inning. John Larson and Bill Craig each had two singles for the Indians and Jim Johnson collected two hits for the Sox.

The Hawkeyes upped their record to 6-2 in the Grade league by blasting the Badgers 14-1. The Badgers have eight losses.

Roger Schultz had three hits for the winners and Nick Hackstock, Ken Peterson and Wayne Muenzel all made two. Ken Peterson and Schultz hit doubles. Don Klatt had two of the three hits off Muenzel, who struck out 14.

Foxes Win, 15-7

The Foxes bested the Gophers 15-7 in another Grade loop fray. The winners have a 4-4 record to 1-7 for the Gophers.

Doug Clark, Bob Julius and Bill Cross all had two hits for the Foxes. Julius tripled and Cross had a double.

Wards 2 and 6 downed Wards 1 and 9 by a 9-5 score in the Midget wheel. It was the winners' ninth straight win. The losers have 1-8.

Church Softball league at the Recreation field Wednesday night.

Presbyterian copped No. 4, a 10-2 trouncing of St. Mark. St. Paul registered a 17-2 triumph over Methodist to pick up its third successive decision.

Dick Schultz cracked a triple and homer and Dick Sheelski and Bill Wood had circuit clouts in Presbyterian's win. Marv Lambert and Wood had two hits in addition to Schultz. The winners had 11 in all.

Presbyterian scored four runs in the second, singles in the third and fourth, three in the fifth and one in the sixth. St. Mark made both of its runs in the seventh. Winner "Tex" Harding gave up four hits, two by Ron Hunsicker.

St. Paul jumped off into a 5-0 lead over Methodist at the end of two innings and came up with seven markers in the fourth.

The winners had 15 hits, including three by Jim Powers and two by Ruh Ihde. Ihde and Charlie Shepard cracked homers. Shepard was the winning pitcher and the loss went to Mathison.

No games are scheduled next weekend because of the Church tournament.

Menasha Pin Group Sets Meeting Date

Menasha — Directors of the Menasha Bowling association will hold their annual dinner meeting at 7 o'clock Wednesday evening, Aug. 6 at Germania hall, H. J. Berro, secretary of the association, announced today.

Officers will be elected and a representative from the American Bowling Congress will be on hand to give a short talk and answer questions. A bowling film will be shown.

Supplies for the 1958-59 league season will be distributed and if time permits, all matters pertaining to the 1959 city tournament will be settled. Every league is to have a director or representative at the meeting, the secretary reported. Robert Currie is president of the association.

and Richard Thiel all had two hits for the victors. Dennee collected a triple. Ricky Moen and Dave Wollmerman made two for the losers. One of Moen's blows was a homer.

Menasha Legion, Sturgeon Bay Vie In Kimberly Meet

Neenah — Menasha's Junior Legion will resume regional tournament play Saturday afternoon at Kimberly. The Lenz-Gazecki post will take on Sturgeon Bay at 3:30. Oshkosh and Kimberly will vie in the opener at 1:30. The winners will play for the championship Saturday night.

Menasha advanced by posting a 16-3 win over New London while Sturgeon Bay upset Green Bay 5-3 in its first meet test. The Kimberly meet winner will play the victor of the Fond du Lac tourney for a berth in the state finals at Rhinelander.

Barbara Wirth Places First in Net Tournament

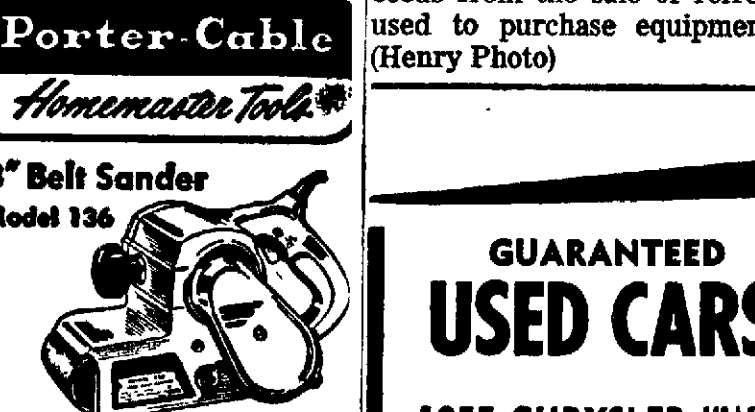

Menasha — Barbara Wirth won the championship in the city singles tennis tournament for girls 13 and under by defeating Sue Makofski 6-3, 6-1 in the championship match.

Miss Wirth won over Joan Hedberg 6-0, 6-0 in the semi-finals and Miss Makofski won over Kathy Vanderhyden 6-3, 6-4.

In first round play, Miss Wirth defeated Carol Sonnenleitner 6-0, 6-1, Miss Hedberg won from Sandra Keberlein 6-4, Miss Makofski bested Betty Fahrnerkrug 6-0 and Miss Vanderhyden took a 6-2 win over Debbie Biggers.

Menasha — First round champion Research and Development came from behind to edge Central Shipping 11-9 to open its second half play in the Marathon Softball league Wednesday night at Jefferson park.

Carton Miehle turned back Office Service 6-2 in the other contest.

Research trailed Shipping 6-3 going into the last of the fifth but came up with four runs in that frame and added another quartet in the fourth. Shipping came within two of tying with a trio in the seventh inning.

Gale Woelfer was the winning pitcher and Marv Dallman took the loss. Woelfer had three hits for Research, including a homer, and Wotava also homered. Vandenberg and Rayford had two hits. Bob Miller made three hits for Shipping.

Carton Miehle scored single runs in the first, second and fourth and three in the fifth to best Office Service. The latter made two in the fourth.

Harvey Poes and Jack Wolff cracked homers for Miehle. Doug Wiatrowski and Dave Demichei pitched for Service and Wiatrowski took the loss. Don Bretthauer, the winner, hurled a four-hitter. Miehle made five bingles.

Legion Win String Halted by Bay Nine; Lose 10-Inning Test

Visitors Score Three Runs in Extra Frame for 7-4 Verdict

BY GEORGE MANCOSKY Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Menasha — Green Bay snapped the Menasha Junior Legion winning string at eight but it took the Packer city club 10 innings to record the victory. The score was 7-4. The Bays' tying run in the eighth and the three tenth inning markers all were unearned.

The Lenz-Gazecki post now has a 3-1 second round record while Green Bay has three straight victories. Don Jensen, who was relieved by Tom Robinson with one out and one on in the tenth, was the loser. Larry Zuidmolder took the win in relief.

Big Ron Hendrickson started on the hill for the winners but had control difficulties and surrendered the mound to Zuidmolder, a lefty, in the third. The starter allowed all the runs and one hit. He walked six and hit a batter.

Menasha Strands 12

Zuidmolder, in the final seven and two thirds frames, allowed no runs, three hits and walked three. Hendrickson had four strikeouts and Zuidmolder 11.

Jensen, in 9 1-3 frames, permitted five hits, was charged with five runs, walked three and fanned six. Robinson walked one, hit a batter, gave one hit and two runs. The losers committed four errors and stranded 12. Green Bay had one error and seven left on base.

Bells 2-Run Homer

Green Bay scored a run in the first on Mike Flatley's double, John Stathas' infield hit and a fielder's choice play. Menasha retaliated in the bottom of the frame as Bill Gamme singled, stole second, went to third on a wild pitch and stole home with a 2-2 count on Tom Rempel.

Hendrickson belted one of Jensen's pitches over the right centerfield fence with Tom Scannell aboard in the second to give the Bays a 3-1 edge.

Menasha went ahead with three runs, without a hit, in the third. With one out, Dave Robinson walked. Rempel reached first when the ball got away from the catcher on a third strike. Tom Syring walked to load the bases.

The first run scored when Gary Schriver hit a grounder to the infield and the throw to the plate was too late to nip Robinson. Rempel scored on a passed ball and Dave Heller walked to again load the bases. Jensen was hit in the elbow by a pitched ball, scoring Syring with the third run of the frame. Zuidmolder was then dispatched and he put out the fire.

Green Bay had runners on second in the third and fifth but didn't score until the eighth. Flatley walked, took second on Stathas' bunt hit, continued on to third, and scored on a wild throw to third on the same play.

Menasha had runners on second in the fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh and one on third with one out in the eighth but couldn't score.

Zuidmolder popped to the infield to open the tenth but Flatley walked. Robinson then replaced Jensen. Flatley stole second and went to third on Stathas' single to short left. Merle Anderson was given an intentional pass to load the bases.

Score on Error

Gary Kroner hit to Heller at third but the fielder made a bad throw to the plate while trying to force Flatley and both the latter and Stathas scored. Tom Queoff was safe on an error to jam the bases and Scannell was hit by a pitched ball to force home Anderson. John Wizmer flied to left to end the inning. Menasha was up and down in order in the tenth.

Neenah — The Marathon Packagers will attempt to move back into a tie for first place in the American division of the Twin City Industrial Softball league when they meet winless Soo Line at 6:30 tonight at the Recreation field.

Main Office won its game Monday night to take a half game lead on a 9-1 record. Soo Line is still looking for its first win after 10 losses. The Packagers registered a 15-8 win in the first meeting between the two clubs on May 8.

In the 6:30 game at Jefferson park, the Marathon Ramblers will go in search of their ninth straight win when they take on Banta's. The Ramblers, the only unbeaten club in either circuit, have a three-game lead over their nearest opponent in the National division.

Eke Out 2-0 Win

The first time around the Rams eked out a 2-0 win as Doug Wiatrowski got the pitching nod over Bob Ross. The Ramblers made four hits to three for the Publishers. Banta's has a 4-4 record to tie Bergstrom's for fourth place.

Bergstrom's will vie with Strange Paper in the 8 o'clock test at the Recreation field. The former took a narrow 7-6 triumph in their May 20 meeting.

The fourth game on the nights schedule will match Northwestern Electrotape and Wisconsin Tissue Mills at 8 o'clock at Jefferson. It will be their third meeting of the year.

Tissue Mills won 12-5 on May 8 and posted a 14-3 triumph on June 19.

Joey Jay's 2-Hitter Hoists Milwaukee Back Into NL Lead

Former Bonus Baby Retires 1st 13 Cardinals in 6-0 Triumph

Milwaukee —(AP)— Gone are the days when Joey Jay used to bask in the sun back of the center field fence at County stadium and munched smuggled candy bars.

That bonus baby of 17 now is a mature 22, with stardom beckoning to him.

He proved again Wednesday night that he has arrived as a big leaguer by pitching a 2-hit, 6-0 shutout over the St. Louis Cardinals and hoisting the Milwaukee Braves back into first place in the bargain. A crowd of 30,495 saw his masterpiece.

The Phillies, under new Manager Eddie Sawyer, sacked the Giants twice to drop San Francisco into second place in the National league, a full game behind Milwaukee.

Retires 1st 13

Jay retired the first 13 Cards he faced and then gave up an infield single to Gene Freese in the fifth. He retired 13 more Redbirds and then surrendered a scratch hit to Don Blasingame in the ninth.

That was the sum and substance of the Cardinals' attack. Jay didn't walk a man and struck out seven in registering his sixth victory, his fifth in a all at the expense of starter and loser Larry Jackson. Jackson's slate now reads six victories and eight defeats. Reliever Chuck Stobbs held the Braves to three singles and no runs over the last six innings.

Jay Ready

Jay didn't figure prominently in the Braves' plans until Bob Buhl injured his arm, but he was ready when Manager Fred Haney called him out of the bullpen and gave him his first start on June 13.

row and his third shutout. He has lost three. It was Jay's third decision over St. Louis and his second by a shutout.

Eddie Mathews' twentieth homer, in the second with two mates aboard, was the Braves' big blow. They concentrated all of their scoring in the first two frames, getting 2 runs in the first and 4 in the second—

Lightweight Champion Joe Brown, right, blocks a right thrown by challenger Kenny Lane, who came in for close fighting. Brown retained his title by decisioning Lane in a 15-round match in Houston, Texas, Wednesday night. (AP Wirephoto)

Brown to Get Good Rest After Decisioning Lane

Crowd of 10,994 Watches Close Championship Bout

BY HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Houston, Tex. —(AP)—Boxing's thin man, miniature dark destroyer Joe Brown, is going to get a good rest, a reward for being one of the busiest champions in the game today.

Little Joe beat Kenny Lane of Muskegon, Mich., the last persistent challenger for his world's lightweight title, Wednesday night before the largest crowd in Texas boxing history—10,994.

Lou Viscusi, Brown's manager observed: "He is the only champion to defend his title three times in eight months. He deserves a rest. I have no plans for him at this time. I am now concentrating on the Floyd Patterson-Roy Harris fight."

Viscusi also manages Harris.

Close Decision

Brown won a unanimous but close decision over Lane, the rugged farm boy from Michigan, who had some bright moments in his efforts to become the first left-hander lightweight champion.

In fact, Lane protested that he had won. He declared he had been robbed and Jack Kearns, Lane's manager, had the same opinion.

Lane claimed he thought he had such a lead that he had coasted the last round. And it was the last round that Brown won the widest margin—and that apparently was what clinched the fight to Brown.

It was a steady, hard-socking bout that saw Brown do the most physical damage but never able to land the kind of blow that had sent four previous challengers kicking since he became champion in August 1956.

Brown cut Lane's right eye in the ninth and opened it further with left jabs in the tenth. It was in this round that Brown hit Lane so hard with a left uppercut that he knocked his mouthpiece out. It left Lane's lip bleeding.

Brown bloodied Lane's nose in the twelfth, and in the fifteenth—Brown's great finishing round that obviously won him the decision—he again knocked Lane's mouthpiece loose.

The boys each entered the fight weighing 134 pounds.

Eau Claire Ace Gelein Signs With Milwaukee

Milwaukee —(AP)— Harold "Bud" Gelein, a 17-year-old pitcher-first baseman from Eau Claire, signed a farm club contract with the Milwaukee Braves Wednesday night for a substantial bonus.

Indications are that Gelein, an all-around athlete who was graduated from Eau Claire Memorial High school last month, received in excess of $50,000. The Braves outbid several other clubs for his services.

Gelein signed a contract with Atlanta, Ga., in the Class AA Southern association, but he will be reassigned in a few days to the Braves' Class C Northern league farm club in his home town. He is scheduled to work out with the Braves at County stadium for a few days before reporting.

Had 26-2 Record

A southpaw, he won 26 and lost only two during his prep career. He pitched four no-hitters and 11 1-hitters and struck out 382 batters.

The 6-2, 200-pound Gelein posted the following batting marks in high school: .375 as a freshman, .388 as a sophomore, .393 as a junior, and .481 as a senior. He led the Abes to the state high school baseball championship in 1957 and 1958, and was named the most valuable player of the state tournament this year.

He had a 7-0 won-loss record in American Legion baseball the last two seasons and was top hitter in the Legion's national tourney with an average of .606.

Anderson, Mary Beth Nienhaus and "Cuddy" Nelson, Gelein also starred in basketball.

Davenport Opens Stay Here Tonight

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

If only "earned" runs were counted in the final score, the Fox Cities Foxes would have posted a 3-2 win over Winona Wednesday night at Goodland field.

However, until an ex post facto rule to that effect is put on the books, the visiting A's will get credit for an 8-5 victory in the rubber game of a 3-game series.

The tail-spinning Foxes, who have been kicking the ball around but good of late, were charged with four errors as they dropped their fifth game in their last six starts.

Officials Here

If things go as they usually do in such cases, the Foxes will exude class tonight in the opener of a 3-game series with Davenport here. Calvin Griffith, president of the parent Washington Senators, and Nats' Farm Director Sherry Robertson are expected to be in the stands.

In dire need of a sharp pitching performance from his slumping mound corps, Manager Pete Suder will start righthander Ron Bloodworth (4-5) against the Dav-Sox tonight. The 8 o'clock game is Kaukauna night at Goodland field.

For the fourteenth time in 23 Three I league second round outings, the Foxes scored five runs (or more) but lost. The hitters, for the most part, continue to do their part.

Allows 9 Hits

Though they certainly deserved better support afield, Foxes' pitchers again weren't much of a problem.

Starter and loser Don Cameron allowed nine hits and three walks for six runs (two earned) in 5 and 1-3 innings; Earl Furlow yielded two hits and two walks for two runs (neither

Houston, Williams Meet In Quarter-Final Match

Marilyn Stops Mrs. Zimmerman, 5 and 4; Rita Measures Kathy Martin by 2 and 1

Milwaukee —(AP)— Defending champion Marilyn Williams tied one scalp to her belt Wednesday as she again demonstrated overwhelming power in advancing to the quarterfinals of the Wisconsin Women's Golf tournament.

In today's round of the 46th annual tournament at North Shore Country club, Mrs. Williams, of Milwaukee, faced the northeastern champion, Mrs. Ken (Rita) Houston of Appleton. Mrs. Williams won by 2 and 1.

Mrs. Williams, tourney medalist, swept into the quarterfinals with a convincing 5 and 4 victory over Mrs. Floyd Zimmerman of Fontana, who defeated the Milwaukeean in the title match two years ago.

39 on Front 9

With a 1-over-par 39 on the front nine, Mrs. Williams took a 4-up lead, only to see it trimmed as she lost the tenth and eleventh. A birdie on the 587-yard twelfth, and pars on the thirteenth and fourteenth earned her the decision. She posted eight pars and two birdies.

Mrs. Houston moved up with a 2 and 1 victory over Kathy Martin of Rhinelander. Also advancing was Sally Kloppenburg of Milwaukee, 1957 runner-up, who slid 6-over-par in outslung Mrs. John Grammell of Milwaukee.

Medalist Carol Sorenson of No. 17 hole.

Yanks Bomb Tigers And Frank Lary

New York Wins Fourth in Row Over Former Nemesis, 16-4

By The Associated Press

Maybe the toughest run of bad luck the Detroit Tigers have had this season was taking seven in a row from the New York Yankees, for now the American league leaders have come bombing back in reprisal.

In two nights Casey Stengel's machine has cracked the Tigers for 41 hits and 29 runs.

Wednesday night the Yankees belted Frank Lary for four runs, then celebrated with a pair of 6-run innings against three other lambs for a 16-4 victory.

New York again has a 13-game bulge over second-place Boston, beaten, 3-1, at Kansas City. Baltimore retained third by defeating the Chicago White Sox, 6-4. Cleveland whipped Washington, 5-3.

The Yankees, who ripped Detroit, 13-3, Tuesday night with 23 hits, rapped 18 hits Wednesday night, including home runs by Mickey Mantle, Yogi Berra and Norm Siebern.

Art Ditmar had the Tigers blanked on three hits until the ninth, when he needed relief.

Lary, now 9-8, gave up seven hits and four runs in his six innings as the Yanks made it four in a row over the Tigers.

Monbouquette Loses

The A's beat Red Sox rookie Bill Monbouquette in his first major league decision with an unearned run in the first and a pair in the third on three singles and Bob Cerv's sacrifice fly. Ralph Terry blanked the Sox on five hits until Pete Runnels singled and Ted Williams doubled him home in the eighth.

The Orioles, within 2½ games of second, had only four hits for eight innings, then beat Early Wynn (9-10) with four runs in the ninth at Chicago. Joe Ginsberg, who earlier counted two runs with his first homer, singled home the first run of the rally. Jack Harshman's pinch single tied it and Bob Boyd's 2-run double won it for reliever George Zverink (2-1).

Russ Nixon drove in three runs for the Indians with a homer and a 2-run double that capped a 3-run, come-from-behind seventh inning.

Beat Cubs

Cincinnati defeated the Chicago Cubs, 6-5, in 10 innings and Pittsburgh plunked Los Angeles back into the cellar with an 11-3 and 6-3 twin-night sweep. Milwaukee stopped St. Louis, 6-0, to regain the lead.

The Phils trailed, 1-0, with two on and two out in the sixth when the June 22 curfew sounded. Last night, lefty Harry Anderson tagged a 3-run homer off southpaw Johnny Antonelli when play resumed. That beat Ruben Gomez, the starter back in June, and gave Robin Roberts a 9-8 record although the Phils managed just three hits.

Streak Ends

The Giants' streak officially ended in the regulation game. Rookie Ray Sempach won his twelfth with a 5-hitter for his second shutout, both over the Giants.

Frank Robinson drove in four runs for the Reds, two with a double that capped a 4-run fifth and the other pair with his winning, thirteenth homer off reliever Don Elston (7-6). Hal Jeffcoat (5-8) won it in relief, after giving up Bobby Thomson's solo homer in the tenth. George Crowe also belted a 2-run homer for the Reds.

Ron Kline won his tenth with a four-hitter in the opener for the Pirates, blanking the Dodgers on one hit after Steve Bilko's homer in the first inning. Stan Williams (6-4) lost it. Roberto Clemente lined a 3-run, inside-the-park homer.

Dick Groat, who had two RBIs in the opener, drove in four in the nightcap.

Greg Schulte's 41 Tops Valley Iron Loop at Muni

Greg Schulte of Accounting shot the low gross of 41 in the latest action of the Valley Iron Works Goodfellowship golf league, played on the back nine at Reid Municipal golf course.

Les Fredericks of Assembly had the second low gross of 42. Schulte also took low net honors with a 35. Bob Bessette had second low net of 36.

Mel Bartelt of Accounting took over first place in the league standings with a 12.50 average. Ray Bennett of Sales is second with a 11.50 average. The Goodfellowship prize was awarded to Fred Stolzenberg.

Major League Stars

By The Associated Press

Joey Jay, Braves, shot out the Cardinals on two singles, struck out seven, walked none and faced but 29 batters in 6-0 victory that hoisted the Braves back into National league lead.

Frank Robinson, Redlegs, his 2-run homer beat the Cubs, 6-5, in the tenth inning after his 2-run double had built a 4-2 lead in the fifth.

Joey Jay Calls His 2-Scratch-Hit Performance His Best Game in Majors

Milwaukee — Five years ago when the Milwaukee Braves signed Joey Jay for a $40,000 bonus few of his teammates would talk to him and his pitching seldom gave them anything to talk about.

But now the 22-year-old right-hander is the top topic of conversation among friend and foe alike.

Jay pitched the world champions back into first place Wednesday night with a 2-hit, 6-0 shutout over St. Louis.

It was Jay's sixth victory since becoming a starter June 13, his fifth in a row and his third shutout. His earned run average for nine starting assignments (he has lost three) is 1.25.

First Hit

Jay, no longer resented as $40,000 worth of excess baggage, said he began to think about a no-hitter in the fifth inning. That was the same frame in which Gene Freese ruined his bid for a perfect game with a sizzler off third baseman Eddie Mathews' glove. Don Blasingame got the other hit, a scratch single in the ninth.

"I figured if I could go to the seventh, I'd give it all I had for a no-hitter," Jay said. "I pitched a lot of no-hitters, maybe 50, before I got into pro ball, but this was my best game in the majors."

Jay, a 6-2, 225-pound product of the Middletown, Conn., little league, admitted that he wasn't entirely satisfied with his performance, despite fanning seven Redbirds.

"I had a lousy night at the plate," he said with as straight a face as he could muster. He went 0 for 4.

Agrees on Site for UW Gym

Madison — The Campus Planning committee apparently has agreed on a site for a $2 million gymnasium at the University of Wisconsin, and will submit its plan at a meeting of the Board of Regents Saturday.

Reports Wednesday said the committee will recommend a site on the western side of the campus. The Athletic department had hoped to erect the gym closer to other athletic structures, but the cost of land, estimated at a half million dollars for a city block, ruled out the possibility.

The proposed gym will be a complex of buildings, with plans to expand it into larger units when additional funds become available from the legislature. Money for initial construction came from the Athletic department.

The gym will include extensive facilities for the university's crew and swimming teams, including two large swimming pools and seats for 2,000 spectators at swimming meets. There also will be shower rooms for both men and women.

Weary Horse Wins Marathon Race

Roosevelt, Utah — A winded, weary horse won, but a New York City policeman and a North Carolina postman made a good showing for the human animal in a 157-mile marathon race.

The horse, with 24-year-old Stewart Paulick of Tooele, Utah, aboard, crossed the finish line in this eastern Utah cattle town at 3:16 p. m. Wednesday—just 29 hours, 31 minutes and 42 seconds after the race began in Salt Lake City.

Chuters Trip New London

Eke Out 6 to 5 Extra Inning Legion Loop Win

New London — Little Chute eke out a 6-5 extra inning victory over New London in Fox River Valley American Legion league play Wednesday night.

The winning run came in the eighth inning when the Chuters' "Ady" Ebben walked and scored on a double by Hannon.

New London opened scoring in the first inning when center fielder Jerry McClone doubled and scored on a single by Ken Huebner. Huebner scored on a single by Jerry Kuppernus.

Little Chute went scoreless until the third inning when Keith Verstege walked and scored on a single by Tom Geerts.

Two in 5th
The New Londoners added two more runs in the fifth frame, but Little Chute came back with three tallies in the bottom half of the inning to knot the score. New London errors accounted for all three of their opponents runs.

New London forged ahead in the seventh inning when Huebner scored from second on a single by Mike Herres.

Little Chute sent the game into extra innings when Owen Vanden Heuvel singled and scored on an error.

Little Chute's Hannon and Bonger tied for the evening's batting honors with three safeties in five trips to the plate.

Valley Iron Tips Coated Paper, 10-9, In Ten Innings

Interlake pitcher Bob Diener won his own game in the seventh with a hit scoring Harley Tierney and Fred Kirk. Miller's Dick Geurts hit a home run in the first inning.

Riverside's "Bud" Horn went all the way, giving up six hits. John DeYoung homered for the winners.

Co-leaders Interlake and Riverside each scored wins to remain atop the American Industrial softball league Wednesday night. Riverside smacked the Post-Crescent, 11-1, and Interlake tipped Miller Electric, 7-5. In the other league game,

Janesville Site Of 1958 State Publinx Tourney

Janesville — The 1958 tournament of the Wisconsin State Public Links Golf association will be played over the 18-hole Janesville Municipal course, September 6 and 7. It is 36 holes of medal play.

The field will be limited to the first 210 public linksters who register. Entry blanks are available at all clubs that are members of the association.

Players of clubs not affiliated with the association can obtain an entry blank by writing Lyle Gifford, 143 Gartland avenue, Janesville.

Entries will close Aug. 2. The Janesville Municipal course is one of the better courses in the state, well-known for its large and velvety greens. It is 6.38 yards in length and par is 72.

Valley Iron edged Coated Paper in 10 innings, 10-9, as both winner Earl Thiel and loser Harvey went the route.

Unearned Runs Give Winona 8-5 Victory

earned) and struck out five in 2 and 3 stanzas, and Ernie Stinsa gave up a pair of hits and a walk, but no runs in one frame.

Meanwhile, Winona's Lev Spencer — a veteran of eight seasons in the minors — was coasting to his fourth win in five decisions. The righthanded Spencer, who was purchased by Winona's parent Kansas City, club from Allentown of the Class A Eastern league to strengthen a weak mound corps, had a 2-hitter going through the first six innings.

Weakens in 7th, 8th
He weakened in the seventh and eighth, allowing three runs on two hits, and Stan Horvatin finished up.

The 27-year-old Spencer, who was 16-14 with last place Allentown last season and went to 1958 spring training with the Class AAA Minneapolis Millers, had managed Winona in three victories Sunday and Monday.

Taking over for the ill Burl Storie, Spencer was relieved by Lew Krouse Tuesday night.

The Foxes' sweet-swinging Carlos "Potato" Pascual rapped a pair of singles to stretch his batting streak to 12 straight games. But Pascual, probably the leading hitter in organized baseball, committed two errors.

He is currently batting .391.

Van Dyke Homers
Bob Van Dyke smashed a 2-run homer and a 2-run double in four trips. The club's RBI leader with 55, Van Dyke had also driven in four tallies the night before with a bases-loaded homer.

Van Dyke's homer in second inning Wednesday was his second in two successive at bats and his sixth of the season.

Bob Tano cracked his eleventh homer of the campaign with no one on base in the eighth.

Van Dyke's homer, over the left field fence at about the 340 mark, followed a single by Jim Nisewonger and gave the Fox Cities a 2-0 lead.

3-Run Third

The visitors went in front to stay with a 3-run third. With two out and a runner on first, Tony Frullo walked and then Tom McDonald slashed a double off the base of the fence in left center field for two tallies. Lane Akers beat out a hit on the left side of the infield, stole second and went to third when catcher Bob Payne lofted the ball into center field, as McDonald came home.

In the Winona fifth Dick Howser walked and went to second as Frullo reached on Pascual's error. Cameron got McDonald and Akers but then Roy Seery beat out a hit to the right of the mound to load the bases.

Dave Gorrie's sharp single to right made it 5-2. Singles by Dick Hutzler and Howser and Pascual's throwing error gave the Athletics their run in the sixth and finished Cameron.

The winners collected their final pair of markers in the seventh off Furlow. With one out, Seery walked and Gorrie beat out a hit of Pascual's glove.

Drew Throw

Seery's attempted throw of third drew a throw from Payne and the wild peg went into the outfield, both runs scoring. Both runners were credited with stolen bases on the play, giving Winona seven in the 3-game set.

The Foxes narrowed their deficit to 8-4 in the seventh on singles by Pascual and Payne, a fielder's choice and Van Dyke's bloop double pushed in to short right field.

Tano's homer, over the left field barrier at the 345 mark, made it 8-5 in the eighth. Don Dantoni beat out an infield hit and Pascual singled to left but then Payne went out, pitcher to first, to end the inning.

Plate umpire Fred Weber got a thorough riding from the fans and several players for questionable ball-and-strike calls and three Appleton policemen stood guard outside the umpires' dressing room after the game until a crowd there dispersed.

Besides Freese's hit, only one other ball was hit with authority. That was Joe Cunningham's drive which Andy Parko hauled down while running toward the left center field fence in the seventh.

Summer Cage League Draws 120 Youngsters

Nearly 120 boys participate in the summer basketball league program held at St. Mary school playground every Monday and Tuesday evenings.

Play takes place from 6:30 to 10 o'clock, finishing under lights. There are three leagues: Cub (fifth and sixth grade), College (seventh and eighth grades), and Pro (high school, sophomores-to-be).

Each boy pays $2.00 for the 9-week session and each team has 10 players. Many of the boys come from St. Mary, but there are also some from Wilson, Roosevelt, Jefferson, St. Joseph, St. Theresa, Sacred Heart, St. Patrick in Menasha, and Menasha St. Mary.

The program is run by Gene "Torchy" Clark, basketball coach at St. Mary, who officiates all games. There is also a scorer and a timer.

Packers Open 1958 Training This Weekend

to interview and photograph the players.

Daily practices begin at 9:45 Monday morning. They will run from 9:45 to 11:30 each morning and from 3:30 to about 5 in the afternoon until the start of the season at the Packers practice field, just south of the club's new stadium south of Green Bay. Night meetings will be held each evening at 7:30 until the start of the season.

The players will be quartered at St. Norbert college.

The club has set an intrasquad game for Aug. 9 at Packers stadium for which admission will be charged. The exhibition season opener is Aug. 20 at Milwaukee County stadium, the annual Shrine game, with the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Twilight Game

The Bays open their home exhibition season Sept. 1 in a twilight game, at 4:30, with the Philadelphia Eagles. The Labor day game is set for that time so that weekend vacationers will have a chance to make it after returning home to Green Bay.

The National Football league opener is Sept. 29, with the Chicago Bears, in Green Bay.

Besides McLean, who was an assistant last year, there is just one holdover mentor on the Packers staff, defensive line coach Jack Morton. New tutors are: Floyd "Breezy" Reid, backfield coach; Nick Skorich, line coach; and Ray Richards, defensive coach.

The Packers will seek versatility as insurance against injury losses in the coming campaign.

Some players will be trained for both offense and defense in summer training, which opens Tuesday.

"We can't afford the same predicament as last season when six broken bones almost wrecked us," McLean says.

"We're going to move personnel around to avoid another crisis," he asserted. "Our boys will know both offensive and defensive assignments. And in some cases a player will go both ways from the start."

"Linebacker Tom Bettis will also be used as an offensive guard."

'Special Sparkle' Won Miss USA Crown for Pretty Louisiana Belle

Long Beach, Calif. — Miss Louisiana, a slender blond with that special sparkle, is the new Miss United States in 1958's Miss Universe contest.

Eurlyne Howell, 18, has the quality the beauty pageant's top judge described this way: "You fall in love with her as soon as you see her."

Favorite of Crowd

From the start of the pageant the crowd has been in love with Eurlyne. Last night she convinced the judges.

She has a dazzling smile, blue eyes, and long, honey blond hair. She speaks with a soft Dixie drawl and fits her self-description: "a southern lady."

Eurlyne is 5 feet 6, weight 119 pounds and measures 36-23-35. These charms helped her last night in winning victory over a field of four other blonds, three of them also representing southern states.

The runners-up, in order, were Miss Florida, Marcia Val-bus, 20, Miami Beach; Miss Alabama, Judith Lucille Carlson, 18, Birmingham; Miss Illinois, June Pickney, 22, Chicago, and Miss Georgia, Diane Gail Austin, 18, Atlanta.

All were beautiful. What made Eurlyne the winner?

"It's the same as that indescribable something that makes a girl an actress — or doesn't make her an actress," said Vincent Trotta, head of the 9-judge panel. "This girl has that special sparkle."

Eurlyne comes from Bossier City — she pronounces it Boh-sure — in the northern part of the state. Her father, Ernest, is a retired oil well driller. She is a sophomore at Centenary college, Shreveport, La., where she is studying speech and dramatics.

She says she has no particular romantic interest and has turned down four proposals of marriage so far.

Strong Competition Ahead

"It's a great honor being picked Miss U.S.A.," she said, "I suspected Miss Florida would win. There's going to be some real competition now from those foreign girls."

The competition begins tonight, when the 34 foreign entries — plus Miss Howell — will be cut down to 15 semi-finalists.

Miss Universe will be selected Friday night.

Miss Florida, the leading runner-up, didn't take her near-miss too hard. "Now I'll get to watch things just as a spectator," she said. "You know, I always did think Miss Louisiana would win."

PH Factor and Skin Care

A lovely writes: Do you recall, for instance. Rather, it is a commend skin-care product with the pH factor for dry skin? Please tell me, too, what pH is and how it works? The answer comes in two parts: In the first place, pH is not an ingredient, per se—like lanolin, for instance. Rather, it is a symbol used to denote the degree of acidity and alkalinity of a formula. pH values range from 1 to 14; numbers under 7 denote increasing acidity, numbers greater than 7 increasing alkalinity. Secondly, all skins have an

Announce Flight Winners in Good Fellowship Play

Flight winners in the Women's Good Fellowship golf league play on Wednesday morning were the Mmes. Thomas McKenny, flight 1, Dan Gressler, flight 2, John Langner, flight 3, and Jerome Capitaine, flight 4.

Mrs. Rocklin Gmelner had low putts with a 15, and Mrs. Robert Sauter had a birdie on number 6 hole.

Teams standings are Flickers, first; Eagles, second; Thrashers, third; Woodpeckers, fourth; Mudhens, fifth, and Sandpipers, sixth.

acid mantle. This means that the skin is acid by nature, rather than alkaline. But a dry skin tends toward the alkaline. In consequence, cosmetics on the acid side—or with a pH of less than 7—are particularly kind to dry conditions. They are well worth a try.

Members of this newest Kiwi chapter are Mrs. W. L. Leipold, Menasha, president; Mrs. John Lindberg, Appleton, vice president; Mrs. William Wittmack, Oshkosh, secretary; and Mrs. Victor Schmidt, Neenah, treasurer.

Jaycettes, Guests Hold Luncheon

A group of 38 Jaycettes and their guests attended the auxiliary's summer luncheon Wednesday noon at Alex's Supper club. Committee for the event was Mrs. William Hout, chairman, assisted by the Mmes. Don Smith, William Duwe, Dan Bahr and John Stein.

In card play, honors went to Mrs. Robert Groves, canasta; Mrs. Duwe, schafskopf, and the Mmes. James Curry and Richard Pruett, bridge.

Sacred Heart Church Site of Ceremony

Miss Rosann Schaefer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph N. Schaefer, 1925 E. Newbury street, exchanged wedding vows with Maynard J. Romenesko, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Romenesko, 930 N. Depot street, Little Chute, in a 10 o'clock double ring ceremony this morning preceded by a nuptial high mass at Sacred Heart Catholic church.

The bride was escorted down the aisle by her father. Officiating at the service was the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Emil Schmitt and attending the couple were Mrs. Leo Sprangers, Appleton, who served her sister as matron of honor, and Wesley Romenesko, Little Chute, who was best man for his brother.

Bridal attendants included the Misses Patricia Romenesko, sister of the bridegroom, and Susan Jansen, both of Little Chute, who appeared as bridesmaids, and Sheila Romenesko, Darboy, the bridegroom's niece, who was junior aid.

Groomsman for Mr. Romenesko was Richard Joosten, Little Chute, and ushers were Joseph Schaefer, Jr., Appleton, and William Romenesko, Little Chute, brothers of the bride and bridegroom, respectively.

A wedding dinner for the bridal party and immediate family members was held at the bride's home Van Abel's, Hollandtown, will be the site of a reception and dance this evening.

A honeymoon in northern Wisconsin has been planned by Mr. Romenesko and his bride, who upon return, will reside at 1314 Elm street, Kimberly.

The bride is a graduate of St. John Catholic High school, Little Chute, where her bridegroom also attended school. She is employed as a sales clerk for Tuttle Press company, Appleton. He is employed by Kenneth Schmalz Landscaping, Appleton.

Open to Interested Women

Set Organizational Meeting For St. Elizabeth Auxiliary

Organizational plans to set up an auxiliary for St. Elizabeth hospital will be charted at 2 o'clock Monday, July 28, at the hospital. The meeting setting up the proposed new auxiliary is open to any area women interested in joining the non-sectarian service organization.

Purpose of the auxiliary will be to provide service "extras" for both patients and visitors; to raise funds for special needs, and to strengthen understanding of hospital aims between the institution and the community.

Action at the organizational meeting will include the election of auxiliary officers and the voting of by-laws guiding its activities. Featured speakers will be Mrs. LeRoy Stohlman, president of the Appleton Memorial hospital auxiliary, and Mrs. Frederick A. Luedke, Milwaukee, state auxiliary chairman.

Preliminary Meeting

Announcement of Monday's session was made by Mrs. Herbert J. Becker, R. N., head nurse in obstetrics at St. Elizabeth, who was named temporary chairman of the proposed auxiliary at an earlier preliminary planning meeting attended by a group of hospital friends and community leaders.

Mrs. Becker states "An auxiliary for St. Elizabeth hospital has long been needed. The hospital, a non-profit institution, will this year begin the celebration of its 60th year of service to Appleton.

Outgrowth of CDA Tea

"It seems most appropriate at this time for the women of the community to join together in its support, giving of themselves to augment and interpret its services to others."

Interest in the forming of an auxiliary developed as an outgrowth of a tea sponsored by Court Ave Maria 1011, Catholic Daughters of America, given this spring at the hospital. Proceeds of the benefit event were used to furnish a mother's room at the hospital and to purchase an automatic scale for the nursery.

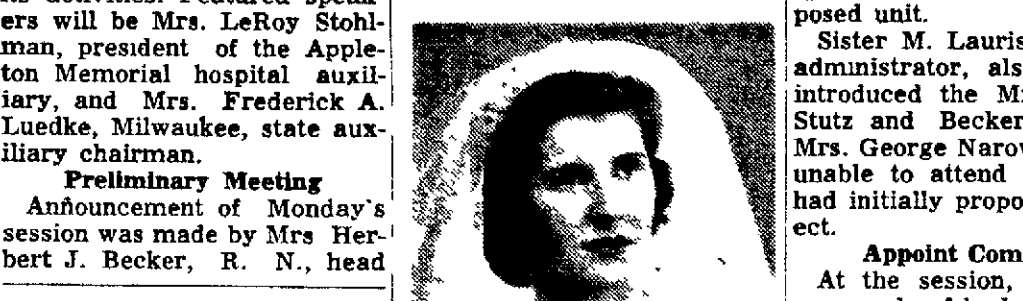

As a result, 25 women gathered to discuss the possibility of organizing a unit to the hospital. Speakers at the preliminary session were Miss Marjorie Schwarzwaelder of the Ryall corporation, hospital public relations consultants of Kansas City, Mo., whose topic was "The Possibilities of Auxiliary Service," and Sister M. Salome, hospital administrator, who welcomed the assembly and spoke on the need for the proposed unit.

Sister M. Laurissa, assistant administrator, also spoke and introduced the Mmes. George Stutz and Becker, who with Mrs. George Narovec, who was unable to attend the meeting, had initially proposed the project.

Appoint Committees

At the session, appointment was made of by-laws and nominating committees. Named to the by-laws group were the Mmes. R. J. Brown, Ellis F. Carroll, Walter Giffin and Narovec, and to the nominating unit, the Mmes. Andrew Parnell, Karl Baldwin, W. J. Frawley, Martin Unmuth and Harry Long, chairman.

Others attending the session were the Mmes. Walter J. Heiss, W. L. Rugland, Gus A. Zuehlke, P. J. Heenan, Richard Radsch, Carl D. Neidhold, L. B. McBain, W. J. Frawley, William G. Keller, Eugene P. Thoma, Albert St. Pierre, Earl Gilling, James Bergstrom, John M. Balliet, Charles Klucker, Krone, Seymour. Mr. and Mrs. Chester W. Bliss, Seymour, are the parents of the bridegroom. (Fraser Photo)

Brides-Elect Feted at Showers

Miss Mildred Schmidt, route 2, Appleton, was honored at a coin shower given by Mrs. Florian Weyenberg Tuesday evening at May-Nor restaurant, Little Chute.

Cards were played and schafskopf prizes were awarded to Mrs. Marie Versteegen and Mrs. Ivo Van Dinter. Rummy prizes went to Mrs. Melvin Schmidt and Mrs. George Hammen.

Miss Schmidt will become the bride of Donald F. Weyenberg, 805 N. Wilson street, Little Chute, on Aug. 12 at St. Edward's church, Mackville.

Miss Nancy Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Birdell Johnson, route 1, Larsen, was honored at a miscellaneous shower Monday evening by 26 guests at the Appleton Elks club. Hostesses were aunts of her fiancé, Mrs. Milton Schultz, and Mrs. Ora, Harold and Walter Wunderlich.

Party prizes went to Miss Nancy Gorges, Miss Janet Wunderlich, Miss Ruth Ann Wunderlich, Miss Maxine Rousin, Miss Nancy Johnson, Mrs. Ethan Bosin, Mrs. Eugene Sage, Mrs. Roland Bleick, Mrs. Birdell Johnson and Mrs. Carlye Wunderlich. Mrs. Roger Weithing won the special prize.

Miss Johnson will be wed to James Wunderlich, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carlye Wunderlich, Greenville, August 30 at Grace Lutheran church, Winchester.

Barbara Fieweger Honored at Parties

Miss Barbara Fieweger has been guest of honor at a round of prenatal parties. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Fieweger, 16 Cherry Kimberly court. On July 26 Miss Fieweger will become the bride of Robert S. Furman, Chicago, III., at Sacred Heart Catholic church.

A linen shower was given for the bride-elect on Saturday afternoon, June 7. It was held in a supper on Monday evening at Evanston, Ill., with the Misses Joanne Jacobsen, Chicago, Nancy Hyde, Cleveland, Ohio, and Carl Thorson, Elkhorn, as hostesses.

A noon luncheon was held on July 13. It was a miscellaneous shower given at Alex's Supper club. Hostesses were Miss Florence Miller and Miss Nancy Miller, both of Appleton.

Miss Fieweger was feted at a candle shower and luncheon on July 17. Mrs. D. W. Curtin, Chicago, will be hosts at the Kimberly, was hostess at the rehearsal dinner. It will be held Friday evening at Alex's Supper club.

Last Saturday a noon luncheon honored Miss Fieweger. It was held at the Elks club and the hostess was Mrs. Walter J. Driscoll, Appleton. Miss Florence Keefe and Miss Mabel Keefe, Appleton, entertained at a supper on Monday evening at their home, 324 W. Prospect avenue.

Miss Fieweger was hostess this noon at a luncheon at the Colonial Wonder bar for her bridesmaids, their mothers and Mrs. V. E. Furman. This evening she will be the honored guest at a kitchen shower given by Miss Jeanne Castle, 8 Pierce court.

Parents of the bridegroom, Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Furman, Chicago, will be hosts at the rehearsal dinner. It will be held Friday evening at Alex's Supper club.

Plan July, August Ladies Day Events At North Shore Club

To conclude July events for the North Shore Golf club ladies day programs a guest day event will be held next Wednesday, and the women will be completing the July handicap tournament.

August activities will include the women's club championship flight and a grandmother golf tournament.

Wednesday's winners in the initials event were the Mmes. William Buchanan, William Roberts, Lee Johannes, Green Bay, and Ken Dickinson, Jr. Winners of the blind bogey were Mrs. Roy Rhynier and Mrs. Andrew Sharp.

Topknot Key to Beauty

The way you wear your hair is the key to your whole appearance. By changing your hairdo, you can change yourself — radically, dramatically. For better or worse!

Styling is only part of top-level good grooming. The clean sparkle of often-shampooed, well brushed hair is just as important.

Brushing removes surface dust and distributes natural oils. It gives your hair a sheen and encourages healthy growth. If hair tends to be oily, wash it every few days (try green soap once a week, regular shampoo at other times). If hair is dry, try a weekly hot oil shampoo.

Suit Hair

In any event, find the sunder that suits your hair — then rub hard, cleaning both scalp and tresses. Rinse until water is clear and hair literally squeaks when you run a strand through your fingers. For extra sparkle, add lemon juice (for blonds) or vinegar (for brunettes and redheads) to the final rinse water. And, if your hair is gray or attractively gray-streaked, use a blue rinse for shining brightness.

Most women set their hair right after shampooing, then wonder why they get a kinky, overtight curl. It's better to towel away excess moisture and let hair dry naturally, brushing to stimulate oils and avoid that "can't do a thing with it" look.

When hair is dry, dampen it slightly with water or spray. Pin curls in place — and pin only the ends to avoid an unattractive crimp. Next, turban your head in a towel wrung out in hot water; let steam penetrate and dampen curls.

Adapt Style

After five minutes, remove towel and cover hair with a net. When hair is completely dry, brush it out — section by section — and comb it into place. (Don't worry about brushing out the wave; a proper set "remembers" its place.)

When you change hairdos, have a good hairdresser do the trimming and first set. It takes an expert scissors to shape a new hairdo. And don't jump blindly on the current fad bandwagon; it may not suit you. Know, in general, the style that does suit you and work out an adaptation of it. Remember, too, that your hair style should suit your life: an elaborate pile of curls may look fine at a formal dinner, but a bit ridiculous in the supermarket.

It's To Check

If face is thin . . . part hair low on one side.
If face is too small . . . a halo of curls will add to its size.

If you are tall, large boned . . . avoid a feather cut.

If you are short, tiny . . . stay away from elaborate, fluffy hairdos.

If forehead is narrow . . . add curls on side at brow line.

If brow is low . . . try curled-up bangs.

If brow is too high . . . bangs again, but combed down.

If face is heavy . . . try slightly fluffy waves or curls near face.

Watch Glasses

If you wear glasses . . . keep brow clear, with curly bangs brushed up.

If you have lines running from nose to mouth or mouth to chin . . . fight the downward look by wearing hair up. If you have a long nose or heavy jawline . . . wear hair pulled back smoothly.

If your throat is long and thin . . . wear a slightly longer hairdo, curved below chin.

If you are past twenty . . . avoid a pony tail.

If you are past thirty . . . wear hair either short or up and trimly groomed.

Experiment With Color

Coloring is a new field of hair beauty. You have a rainbow of colors to choose from — in tints, rinses, sprays, shampoos. Here again, you must experiment. Carefully.

It's best to start with one of the so-called "temporary" colorings; these are the ones that wash out. This is an easy way to find out what suits you, and usually you'll discover that it gives you just what you want.

Handle coloring products with care, keeping them away from eyes, ears, face. And always take a patch test first, following directions.

Winners of Wednesday's bridge party are north-south players, the Mmes. Lee Fischer and Bess Long, first; H. J. Weller and George Schwab, second; Cyril Gossen and Harold Parish, third; Norbert Roemer and James Danielson, fourth, and H. J. Davis and Walter Bell, fifth.

East-west winners are the Mmes. Clyde Arft and George Hegner, first; E. J. Schaar and Max Schiedermayer, second; John Schneider and P. J. Heenen, third; the Mmes. Emalyne and Katherine Hogan, fourth, and Mrs. W. J. Geenen and Mrs. Clarence Schultz, fifth.

Miss Universe Entrants Tell Beauty Secrets

Long Beach, Calif., —(AP)—Lend an ear, ladies, while the Miss Universe contest lovelies tell beauty secrets of their native lands:

Miss Japan, Tomoko Moritake: "Our women use a certain flour made of rich polishings. They put this in a little bag and wash the face with it."

Miss West Indies, Angela Tong: "The women put olive oil all over their bodies just before going to bed. But I don't do this."

Soap and Water

Miss Paraguay, Graciela Scorza, whose English is slightly fractured: "I don't use nothing."

Miss Mexico, Elvira Leticia Rissler: "We have no secrets, but we like to eat fruits and vegetables and avoid fatty foods. We feel what you eat is very important for beauty."

Miss Poland, Alicja Bobrowska, the first entrant from an iron curtain country: "Polish women don't want to be beautiful because they are hard working people. The men and women work together. Wash yourself with soap and water. That gives the beauty."

Visits Daughters

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Huettl, Dale, and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Lemke and family, Appleton, traveled to Madison and Janesville on Sunday to visit the Huettl's daughters.

Mrs. Leland Hanselman lives in Madison and Mrs. Kenneth Werner resides in Janesville. Mrs. Lemke is also a daughter of the Leo Huettls.

Waistline Elevated By Italian Designers

Florence, Italy —(AP)— Italian designers want to put women up to their ears — and sometimes to their eyes — in fuzzy collars this fall, and up to their bosoms in waist.

Collections shown Tuesday night by Carosa and Capucci emphasized the mounting neckline and elevated waist.

Princess Giovanna Caracciolo of Carosa, the couturier of ambassadors' wives, showed scraggy wool coats in full color or with high-cuffed collars. A beige coat had a convertible hood which could be buttoned up to the eyes.

Carosa's daytime dresses have a slim princess line starting from foreshortened, nursery school waists. Sometimes they're knits of soapdye yarns and dipped in water colors.

Her interpretation of the "Bo-Peep" look is also applied to evening taffetas, some with cut-away overskirts, longer behind. A pink satin ball gown with flaming red roses was full length, as were several other brilliant evening dresses with the "Bo-Peep" bodice.

Capucci, influenced by the milkmaid as well as the shepherdess, showed several cross-ed collars and flanked skirts. He, too, utilized soapdye woolens, muslin collars and hoisted stomachers.

His distinguishing characteristic was the box. In place of the sack, Capucci encloses the torso entirely in cigaret package shapes of various fabrics. Some looked like cases for mysterious musical instruments not nearly so shapely as the cello.

One version in orange velvet flared from below the thighs giving a lopped-off Eiffel tower effect.

Erb park will be the site of the 1959 reunion to be held on the third Sunday in July.

Designing Woman

BY ELIZABETH HILLVER

As homes go today, an entrance hall is a luxury—and it's far too much of a luxury for most homes if the space in it is squandered on do-nothing furniture. The best way to enlarge a home's square foot usefulness very often is to be more practical about the hall, according to Lawrence Peabody, designer, and here are three ways to do it with furniture he designed.

Instead of a console that's no more than table-top useful, install a tall cabinet that stores to its last inch. Or use two of them if the wall is long enough—here two conceal everything there was no place for before behind cane-paneled doors.

For the hall that's too small for this bulk, use a single cabinet set up on a bench, with a matching bench made comfortable with cushions. These benches include wide storage drawers and so does the longer bench shown with the tall mirror.

The longer bench provides both a table top and a cushioned seat, and the mirror, so set up on a bench, with a smart with it, is doubly useful in seeming to widen the hall.

Gripes Aplenty From 'Sitter' Who Wants Moms With References

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN: Mrs. Had it had her say. Now may I have mine? I'm a sitter who would like to enumerate my gripes:

1. Mothers who leave a sink full of dishes and say "Would you mind...?"
2. Mothers who promise to be home at a certain time then come in three hours late and try to give you out of overtime.
3. Mothers who scheme beforehand and pool five or six kids together and expect one sitter to do the work of three.
4. Mothers who tell you to "help yourself to anything in the house" then ask what happened to the three olives that were in the jar.

5. Mothers who say "Jane can play in her room, Johnny can stay in the yard, Sue is next door with her girl friend and Sammy will probably sleep straight through." Then blow their tops because you didn't have eyes in the back of your head.
6. Mothers who can afford to go out twice a week and squander $20 each time, but complain that 50 cents an hour is "rather high."

And you feel that sitters should have references, Ann Landers? I think the mothers should have them. — MARJORIE D.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: The letter from the mother who was disgusted with "sloppy, irresponsible sitters" fired me to a crisp. She signed her letter "Had It." Well, I'm a sitter who was "Had It" from those cheap, miserable women who call themselves "Mothers."

Did you know there are women who meet the sitter on the front porch and leave without so much as a single instruction? They run out as if they've been in prison for 40 years and this was their first taste of freedom.

They don't let you know if the children have been fed, what time to put them in bed, or where they can be reached in case of an emergency.

A mother once left me with a child so ill I had to call our family doctor when the baby began to turn blue. The doctor said I probably saved the child's life. Did I get a thank you? No. I got a complaint because the bill was $15.

For every lazy irresponsible sitter there are 100 mothers who don't deserve the name. They are merely females who gave birth to children. — "HAD IT, TOO"

Mystery and Detective Plots will be the order of the day in "Angel Street", Attic theater's melodramatic thriller opening Saturday at the Jefferson school gymnasium. Shown in a scene from the play are Mrs. Gerald Thiel, left, as the maid, and George Jagerson, Neenah, cast as the deceptively sinister Manningham. Advance reservations are available at Belling pharmacy, with performances scheduled for 8:15 Saturday, Sunday and Monday evenings this weekend and next.

Attic Theater Picks Thriller As Second Play

Detective Mystery, Gas Light Era Prevail In 'Angel Street'

A gas-light-era thriller will take to the Jefferson school gymnasium arena theater Saturday as Attic theater's second offering of the summer season.

Patrick Hamilton's "Angel Street", a detective mystery of the 1880's, is the tale of a demoniacal husband deliberately torturing his wife into insanity when the guise of kindness.

It is scheduled for a two-week run with performances on Saturday, Sunday and Monday evenings.

A founding member of Attic theater, Mrs. Stuart Gallaher, Neenah, leads the cast of seven as Mrs. Manningham, the victim of the sinister plot. Better known to area theater-goers of a few years ago as Emmy Bunks, Mrs. Gallaher is a veteran of several early Attic theater productions.

George Jagerson, also of Neenah, is cast as Manningham, the villain of the piece. Jagerson numbers the role of Lord Essex in "Elizabeth the Queen" among his Attic theater performances.

Post Office Notes
July Mail Increase
An increase in mail volume for July, normally the slowest month of the year, might be ascribed to the Aug. 1 postage rate boost, Francis Sumnicht, postmaster, says.

He reported about a 12 per cent increase over last July, most in letter-size mail. Much of this may be advertising and promotions, Sumnicht said.

A breakdown shows a 1958 increase from 253,000 to 301,000 in outgoing letters and 320,000 to 346,000 in incoming letters.

Shah's Next Wife May be English-Educated Iranian

London — (AP) — Raven-haired Lilly Myhra Fallah has been summoned back to Tehran from an exclusive English finishing school, leaving behind a buzz of speculation that she will be the shah of Iran's next queen.

But in Teheran, Iran's royal court minister today denied London newspaper reports that the shah of Iran may marry the daughter of an Iranian oil official.

"There is no truth in that. It is false," Minister of the Royal Court Hussein Ala declared. "The shah has made no decision."

Friends of the beautiful 18-year-old Iranian girl say she will fly to Paris next week to choose a trousseau for her wedding to the handsome 38-year-old monarch.

The friends say the wedding may be "sometime in October."

For weeks, Lilly's secret has been kept at the Paddock Wood finishing school, which lies among rolling heathland and is surrounded by lawns and flowers. There are 48 girls—mostly foreign—at the school.

Would Succeed Soraya

"Only a few of us knew about Lilly and we did not think it good for the other girls to tell them," said the matron last night.

Lilly is tall, olive-skinned and the daughter of Reza Fallah, wealthy boss of Iran's nationalized oil industry. He reportedly was called to the shah four months ago and told Lilly was among those being considered to become the shah's wife, succeeding former Queen Soraya.

The shah divorced Soraya in March because she had not borne an heir to the throne.

At the school Lilly took classes in washing, ironing, cooking, deportment and English. She has been in England since she was a small child and her English, like the shah's, is perfect.

WHY YOU SHOULD BUY A USED CAR!

Especially A Gibson O.K. Used Car!

The following reasons why a man should buy a used car were listed and advertised in 1929. As you will note, they are just as logical today as they were in 1929.

1. You get more for your money in a good used car bought from an established dealer.
2. You get unused transportation in a used car just as surely as you get it in a new car.
3. But you pay far less for it per mile.
4. With normal care you will get thousands of miles of transportation — and still be able to trade in your car without the depreciation you would have if you bought it new.
5. The price you pay is the list price less the depreciation, less a further depreciation due to a normal surplus of used cars on the market.
6. On a time payment basis your initial expenditure and your monthly outlay are both surprisingly low.
7. Fire and theft insurance cost less on a Used Car.
8. You can pick a bargain that it would be impossible to find in a new car — and you often get expensive extras and accessories at no extra cost.
9. You can put yourself on a two car basis for about one new car would cost.
10. Your car is no older than eighty per cent of the other cars you meet on the road.
11. You get all of the advantages that motor car ownership brings to you and your family.
12. You've been sensibly economical — and that is always a satisfaction.

Cirrhosis Can be Slowed By Proper Care, Diet

By Joseph G. Molner, M. D.

The liver is one of the most versatile organs of the body. It does a lot of jobs. It works steadily. When you recognize how much it does, and how complex the jobs are, it makes you wonder, not that the liver sometimes has troubles, but that it causes so little trouble.

Dr. Molner

M.M. and others have recently asked for some information about cirrhosis of the liver. It is one of the three or four principal causes of trouble.

The liver converts foods we eat to chemical forms that we can use. It stores energy (if we eat nothing for a day, the liver does a good job of supplying stored energy without drawing on other reserves.) The liver filters out or changes some poisons so they lose their ability to harm us. It creates various blood components, such as fibrinogen, which is required for stopping bleeding. Some liver cells destroy bacteria. The liver created bile to digest food. It also stores up reserve supplies of fluids which are used if, for some reason, we do not have an adequate volume of blood.

The foregoing gives you a general idea of how many things the liver does for us. Now when cirrhosis sets in, there is a growth of fibrous tissues which, in turn, crowd down the normal size of the useful areas of the liver. There are two major types of cirrhosis, and many minor varieties, and I don't think it would be either useful or interesting to go into these technical subdivisions.

How To Treat It
For practical discussions, cirrhosis simply means that the liver is encountering general interference with its job of doing, in adequate volume, all the things it has to do. From the patient's standpoint, he must

Boys Have Exciting Afternoon With Loot
Kansas City—It was an exciting afternoon Tuesday for the two boys, aged 8 and 9. Then Patrolman Ben Way arrested them and asked if they knew what had happened to the piggy bank containing $60 missing from the nearby apartment of Mrs. Josephine Winslow.

The boys admitted taking the money and told of buying hamburgers, malted milks, flashlights and knives and a chihuahua.

"I've always wanted a chihuahua," one said. "He cost $45."

The dog will go back to the pet shop. The boys' names were not disclosed.

(1) avoid anything that will increase the degree of cirrhosis, and (2) follow the well-known rules of good health and avoid over-straining the body's notable ability to take care of ordinary problems.

Cirrhosis is known as a "drinking man's disease," but that is a half-truth. Faulty diet, plus (I feel sure) some factors that we don't know about yet, can cause the disease in people who have never touched a drop of alcohol. Likewise the hard drinker often is careless about his eating, so his liver is damaged by the bad diet resulting from elbow-bending.

But it is true, too, beyond any doubt, that too much alcohol also contributes directly to the trouble by encouraging too much tendency to deposit fats.

So drinking can be (but not always is) a contributing factor, and when one has cirrhosis, he should quit drinking. I didn't say cut down. I said quit. Aside from the general slowing up of the various tasks of the liver, there may be accumulation of fluid in the abdomen, which may require draining or "tapping," periodically. There may also be serious internal bleeding. Or other consequences.

Thus, in general, from this disease, the liver "hardens" or loses its fullest ability to work. The damage may be slight or it may be great. In either event, the patient should know that he has to be careful to live a healthful, sensible life and follow his doctor's orders explicitly. Cirrhosis isn't something we can cure. But it is a disease that, with proper care, and proper behavior of the patient, can be slowed down. The patient who laughs it off as "unimportant" is a fool. The patient who assumes that "nothing can be done," and gives up hope, is just as foolish.

On route 2 mail will be delivered to seven families on Long court, two miles west of

Chicken Raiser Uses Cattle Trick of Old; Tattoos His Pullets

Mocksville, N. C. — (AP) — Chicken raiser M. K. Allen, of near Mocksville, was bothered by thieves stealing so many of his pullets. So he borrowed an idea from the branding iron of cattle rustling days.

He bought a tattoo set and is now putting his brand in the web of the chickens' wing so he can identify stolen ones as his property.

Appleton, off Spencer road. Four families on Park ridge north of Highway 41, will get mail deliveries on route 3.

Two families will get mail on route 4 northwest of Appleton.

Bury Young Leukemia Victim in Cherished Gown for Fall Wedding

Pittsburgh — (AP) — Nine-year-old Palma Lagrotteria talked often about how she was going to be a flower girl in the September wedding of a family friend.

And she was excited about her gown for the wedding, a replica of the bride-to-be's white gown, overlaid with pink tulle. She even helped her mother pick it out.

State Traffic Patrol Contacts About 1 of 7 Cars in 1957 Year

Post Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — The state traffic patrol operating at full strength for the first time, had some contact with about one out of seven licensed motor vehicle operators in the state during 1957.

The relatively intensive service of the patrol was reported in the annual summary of work by L. E. Beier, commandant.

Beier disclosed his field officers issued 37,605 arrest tickets during the year, or in the approximate ratio of one for every 12 man-hours of patrol duty. Patrolmen drove 6,000,000 miles, issued written warnings almost equal to arrest tickets in number, and also produced 144,000 5-day correction notices for motorists with faulty equipment.

The Beier report highlighted the fact that the state's traffic fatality record was the lowest recorded in the history of the Wisconsin automotive transport regulation program and there was a reduction in the number and severity of rural accidents in general.

The enforcement officer explained the "modern concept of traffic law enforcement" as one demanding that effort be concentrated against accident producing violations at the location and time of highest frequency. The state has adopted the system of "selective enforcement," he said, in order to get maximum effect from what he called a "relatively small group of officers."

Beier noted motor carrier enforcement showed few changes in trends from other years. The state weighs trucks to test their compliance with state licensing and weight limitation laws. Patrolmen weighed nearly 121,000 trucks during the year, and issued 10,638 arrest notices.

Beier's patrol now is spending about $2,044,000 a year, the annual report said, about 70 per cent of which was accounted for by salaries. Travel expenses amounted to slightly more than 7 per cent.

The report was hopeful about effectiveness of enforcement work in accident prevention, but it said the drop in fatalities and fatal accidents last year "was somewhat offset by a continued increase in personal injuries caused by motor vehicle accidents."

Second Real Estate Tax Installments Due July 31 To County Treasurer

The deadline for paying second half of postponed real estate taxes is July 31, County

Treasurer R. A. Bentz announced.

Taxes could be paid in full prior to March 1 or could be paid in two installments, if the first half was paid by Jan. 31, by property owners in county towns, villages and cities. Appleton offers a 3-installment plan.

After the deadline there will be an interest charge of 6.4 per cent in August, .8 of one per cent for each month in 1958.
